

SCHOOL BUDGET WILL UP TAX RATE

More Than $3 Boost Looms; Fluoridation Aids Increase

Newton's school budget will jump about $850,000 next year, The Graphic learned today.

This would represent an increase of slightly more than $3 in the city's tax rate.

Higher school costs and other factors indicate that Newton's tax rate will climb from the $62.80 figure of this year to at least $66 next year.

Pay raises granted by the School Committee this year which must be financed for the entire 12 months in 1962 will account for a substantial part of the rise in the school budget.

Whether the Aldermen will approve the Mayor's proposal is uncertain.

Earlier this year, Mayor

Gibbs proposed a $300-a-year raise for the police and firefighters, but the Aldermen cut it down to $200.

6400 Newtonites Sign Anti-Toll Road Petition

The signatures of 6400 Newton voters were filed at the State House yesterday in support of a petition seeking to prevent the extension of the toll road from Weston into Boston.

Mayor Donald L. Gibbs, who with ex-Mayor Howard Whitmore, Jr., spearheaded the drive for signatures in the city, reported that more than 9000 Newton residents actually signed the petition.

But he said that approximately 30 per cent of the signatures obtained were not valid because the signers had neglected to write in a middle initial or otherwise failed to sign their names exactly as they appear on the voting list.

"Body" on Track Prank Catches 2 Local Youths

Two 17-year-old youths, one of whom allegedly stretched across the MTA tracks on the Highland branch and played dead to "see what would happen" were arraigned Monday in Newton District Court.

Charged with obstructing the MTA right of way and disturbing the peace were Stephen DeWine of 44 Pickwick road, West Newton, and Robert D. McLaughlin of 11 Chatham road, Newton Highlands. Both pleaded innocent before Judge Donald E. Mayberry who set bail at $125 each and continued the case to Dec. 18.

Police said the prank tied up seven MTA cars containing some 200 passengers after MTA Motorman William

Owners Warned on Winter Driving, Parking, Towing

A warning from Newton Police Chief Philip Purcell to motorists to adjust their speeds to winter driving conditions was coupled this week with an intensive drive against night-time parking violators.

He listed December as "the most dangerous traffic month of the year" and recalled that last year 61 traffic deaths were reported.

"We are striving to eliminate this horrible toll this year," Chief Purcell said.

"Driving on Massachusetts highways in December can present many problems resulting from unpredictable road and weather conditions. Clear windshields are extremely important.

"Efficient operating wiper arms, blades and defrosters will combat snow, rain, road splash and interior fogging. Vehicle lighting equipment should be kept in proper operating condition."

Chief Purcell has instructed all officers to enforce the ordinance which prohibits street parking for over one hour between 2 and 6 a.m. Officers have been instructed to tag cars parked in driveways if the rear of the car protrudes onto the sidewalk.

Mayor Donald L. Gibbs called on the city's residents to cooperate in the city's snow removal program.

"All night parkers will be tagged," he warned. "This also applies to cars in driveways with the rear end protruding over the sidewalk. We have purchased six new sidewalk snow plows this year and will increase the number of sidewalks to be plowed."

Students Spark Drive Here To Aid Little Chinese Boy

Newton residents, sparked by a city-wide door to door campaign by high school students, contributed substantially to the appeal published in The Graphic last week for assistance in the case of the little Chinese boy convalescing at the Children's Hospital Medical Center after serious heart and kidney surgery.

A group of high school girls from Newton Centre mobilized their sorority, Iota Phi, to collect donations in this city. Leaders of the group, Beverly

Legalized Betting Places Answer to "Bookie" Problem

Governor Volpe and the members of the Legislature have one sure and fool-proof way in which to halt illegal gambling and "bookie" operations which annually pour thousands of dollars into the pockets of gangsters, racketeers and a wide assortment of crooks.

That is to create legal and licensed off-track betting establishments where persons who wish to wager $2 on a horse race, $1 on a football game or 25 cents on the number pool may do so without violating the law.

The first, and perhaps prevailing, impulse of religious leaders and well-intended citizens would be to battle such a proposal. Most legislators and probably the Governor as well would back hastily away from the idea.

What cannot be disputed, however, is that the racketeers, the gangsters and the overlords of the multi-million dollar "bookie" business would be in the forefront of a furious fight to block legalized and licensed betting which would put them out of business.

Owners Warned

Street Commissioner Frank K. Perkins has disclosed that the six new sidewalk plows will permit a 40 per cent expansion of the sidewalk clearing program this winter.

This year more than 350 streets will be cleared by the city, and some 165 are on the list for the first time this year. The list was given Mayor Gibbs and the Board of Aldermen for approval by Public Works Director Willard S. Pratt.

The list was prepared with advice of the School Department. In an accompanying letter to the Mayor, Director Pratt said:

"Due to constant criticism by citizens throughout the entire city concerning the plowing of sidewalks, we have established the list of sidewalks to be plowed."

"Criticism has been received both for not plowing the sidewalks in certain areas and for plowing the sidewalks in other areas. It would appear to us that this list should be approved by you and the Board of Aldermen."

If cars obstruct snow removal the city has the right to tow them away at the owner's expense, warned Chief Purcell.

Meanwhile, the Street Traffic Committee of the Board of Aldermen, recommended at its Monday night meeting the acceptance of legislation adopted this year which would greatly increase the rights of police to tow away illegally parked cars.

Newton Is Well Represented On Coming Program

The Hon. Harrison Williams, U. S. Senator from New Jersey, will be the featured speaker at the first statewide workshop for "Operation Support." Many Newton committee members are working on this non-partisan organization which supports President Kennedy's programs on Foreign Aid, Federal Aid to Education, and Medical Care for the Aged.

Mrs. Edward Schwartz, state chairman for "Operation Support," will be hostess at the workshop and luncheon to be held Saturday, December 9, at The Meadows in Framingham.

In addition, Dr. Thomas Plaut, 88 Montvale road, Newton, of the Harvard School of Public Health will talk on the medical care bill; Professor Samuel Beer, of the Department of Government at Harvard, will talk on foreign aid; and Joseph Young, of the Harvard School of Education, will talk on aid to education.

In Massachusetts, "Operation Support" was formed under the auspices of the State Democratic Committee and coordinated under the Women on Wheels program of which Mrs. Schwartz is state president.

An active "Support" group works in each congressional district and will soon be established at the county and precinct level.

A few of the many local women engaged in "Operation Support" are: Mrs. William Stratton of 15 Trowbridge road, Newton, co-chairman for the 10th congressional district; Mrs. Melvin Taylor, chairman of the State Democratic Committee, who heads the Speaker's Bureau; and Mrs. Herbert Nollman, 65 Ellnor road, Newton on the committee for public affairs.

Cabot Nursery School Kiddies Enjoy Hayride

Thirty-five children from the Cabot Nursery School recently visited Drumlin Farm, the Audubon Society's wildlife sanctuary in Lincoln.

While there the children enjoyed looking at the variety of birds and other animals. The highlight of the trip was a horse-drawn hayride through the woods and fields. Frequent stops were made while the guide pointed out unusual birds' nests.

This was the first in a series of many trips planned for the children at the Cabot Nursery School.

Political Highlights

The present-day racketeers are just as much opposed to a law permitting off-track betting places as the rum-runners of three decades ago were against the repeal of prohibition.

Some people, of course, still believe the sale of liquor should be forbidden. An even larger number feel that betting, whether at a track or off it, should be outlawed.

The cold truth, however, is that as long as thousands of citizens want to place a bet of a dollar or a dime they'll find a way to do it without going to a track.

The hard fact is that if the proprietors of a legal betting establishment were paying a big license fee and turning over a portion of his "take" to the State, as the tracks now do, he wouldn't be paying bribes to anyone for protection from the law.

Right now the spotlight is on Boston because of the widely publicized television film of a key shop in the Back Bay which allegedly did a bustling "bookie" business.

In the midst of all the sound and fury, the breast-beating and pious pronouncements, the investigations and allegations, scores of "bookie" joints in cities and towns all around Boston went right on doing business as usual. The same thing presumably was true throughout the Commonwealth and across the nation.

The TV film was a shocker because it showed police officers going in and out of an alleged "bookie" establishment. Except for that it would not have caused more than a momentary flurry of excitement.

But whatever the outcome of the present probe may be, the "bookie" business will continue to flourish just as long as thousands of persons, who consider themselves law-abiding citizens, insist on violating the law by illegal betting.

There'll always be a "bookie" to accommodate them, whether furtively or openly, and the "bookie" business will continue to be operated by racketeers and gangsters, with periodic murders.

The choice apparently is between that and legalized gambling, just as the issue of repealing prohibition involved a choice between bootlegging and legitimate business.

Predict Volpe Veto Of Dem. Gerrymander

A state-wide election of Congressmen in Massachusetts next year, is looming steadily more likely unless Democratic leaders on Beacon Hill, change their present plan for dividing the State into 12 new congressional districts instead of the present 14.

The bill drafted by the Democratic-controlled legislative redistricting committee would be unlikely to get through the Legislature in its present form. But if it did, Governor Volpe would be almost certain to veto it when it reached his desk.

While Democratic politicians would scream that Volpe was forcing a state-wide congressional election, the Governor probably would have to give greater consideration to the fact that many Republicans would feel that he sold his own party down the river if he signed the redistricting bill into law.

The redistricting bill actually is a more brazen Gerrymander than is generally realized.

The most ironic aspect of the situation is that Democratic chieftains have administered some political soothing syrup to the Republican politicians, and many of the latter have gulped it down.

For sheer double-talk and reverse English nothing has quite matched the appraisals by Democratic spokesmen of what their redistricting proposal would do.

Holy Name To Hear Talk On Civil Defense

Francis M. Reilly of Waltham, an official of the U.S. Office of Civil Defense, will give an illustrated lecture on "The Civil Defense Problem" at next Sunday's meeting of the Holy Name Society of the Church of Mary Immaculate of Lourdes, Newton Upper Falls.

The meeting will take place in St. Elizabeth's Center immediately after attendance by the members of the society at the 7:15 o'clock mass. Chairman of the committee on arrangements is Robert B. McLaughlin of 69 Waldorf Road, Newton Upper Falls, who has served as consultant to various civil defense agencies. Presiding at the meeting will be Attorney John M. Mullen, 169 Elliot Street, Newton Upper Falls, president of the parish society.

Mr. Reilly is director of administration of the Office of Civil Defense, Region I, U. S. Department of Defense. Region I consists of the New England States, New York, New Jersey, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands. An alumnus of Boston College, Mr. Reilly was Civil Defense Director in Waltham from 1951 to 1955. For many years he was an instructor in science in the Waltham school system.

During his lecture he will show color slides to illustrate the nature of the nuclear bomb threat to the civilian population and what is being done to meet this threat. He will describe the shelter program now being put into effect. Kits containing the latest available information on civil defense will be distributed to those attending the meeting.

Charles Nesson Gets Harvard Sears Law Prize

The Harvard Law School announces that Charles R. Nesson of 1063 Commonwealth Ave., Newton Centre, has been awarded the coveted Sears Prize in his first year at the Law School.

In 1912 a gift was received from Sarah C. Sears to establish at the Law School, in memory of her son, Joshua Montgomery Sears, Jr., LL.B. 1904, "prizes to be awarded annually to students in the School who shall have done their best brilliant work in their class during the year." From this gift four prizes of $750 each are awarded annually, one to each of the two students receiving the highest averages in the work of the first year, and one to each of the two students receiving the highest averages in the work of the second year.

Nesson, a second-year Law student, was also invited to join the Harvard Law Review in his first year. The primary purpose of the Review is to publish annually a legal periodical of eight issues that will serve the varying needs of judges, lawyers, professors and students. Membership is highly honored as only the top 25 men in each class are invited to join.

Nesson graduated from Harvard College in 1960 with an A.B. degree.

'Operation Performance' Is Held At Newton High School

"Operation Performance" was successfully presented by members of the Music, Drama and Dance departments of the Boston Conservatory of Music, at a recent assembly at Newton High School.

The program was presented under the sponsorship of the Newton High School Music Club at their regular meeting, and students and faculty from Beals and Riley Houses and invited guests were present.

A brief business meeting opened the program at which Lee Holdridge presided and Jackie Grant and Katrina Currens submitted the secretary's and treasurer's reports respectively.

Henry Lasker, the club advisor, then proceeded to turn the meeting over to Robert Dumm, dean of the Boston Conservatory of Music, who then introduced and narrated the program.

In his introduction, Mr. Dumm stated that the intention of the program was to present a cross-section of the work being done at the Conservatory in its three fields of study, Music, Drama and Dance.

He also spoke about the fact that the Conservatory is the oldest in Boston (founded 1867) and that many of its students have graduated into places in the concert hall or Broadway theatre.

James Remley, supervisor of music in Newton, discussed the fact that the Greater Boston Youth Symphony Orchestra will give a concert on Sunday, December 17, at 4:00 p.m. in the High School auditorium.

The program will also be sponsored by the Music Club and is intended to raise more money for the Music Club's scholarship fund, which it awards to a worthy senior member who will be continuing a serious study of music after High School.

Boston communities to Colonel Yang and his son. Father and son flew from Formosa to Boston three weeks ago so that the boy could undergo a delicate heart operation.

Mr. Denny Moy and Loy Wong, president and secretary of the Chinese Consolidated Benevolent Association of New England, also presented the Colonel with a check for $310.

Following heart surgery, the little Chinese boy developed an acute kidney failure necessitating further surgery.

A team of kidney specialists from the Peter Bent Brigham Hospital performed the required surgery. Te-Wha's heart and kidneys are now functioning properly and he is convalescing at Children's Hospital where he is expected to remain for another two weeks.

Meanwhile, people from all the Greater Boston communities, including Newton, and, in fact, all along the East Coast were rallying to do what they could to help the hard-pressed Chinese Army Colonel and his courageous little son.

Much of the money is being donated to the Children's Hospital Medical Center where it is put into the Patient Aid Fund for Colonel Yang's use.

If necessary, the Children's Hospital will make available to Colonel Yang an additional $800 from the Patient Aid Fund beyond the gifts given specifically for Te-Wha's use. All doctors gave their services without fee.

Because of the complications of his case, the little lad required additional nursing care and must stay at the hospital longer than was first estimated. His hospitalization expenses are now expected to be around $2,300.

Denny Moy, local restaurant owner, is honorary chairman of the fund raising drive in this area. He said that contributions may be sent to the Chinese Consolidated Benevolent Association at 14 Oxford street, Boston.

Jude T. Tomaski, seaman USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Tomaski of 19 Dalby street, Newton, is serving aboard the fleet oiler USS Caloosahatchee now with the Sixth Fleet in the Mediterranean. The ship is due to return to the States in March of 1962.

Newton Executive Will Be In Panel

A Newton executive will participate in a discussion panel on "The Self Service Department Store Today and Tomorrow" at the monthly meeting of Boston Apparel Lodge, B'nai B'rith, at Sidney Hill Country Club at Chestnut Hill tonight (Dec. 7) at 6:30 p.m. Herbert S. Postoffice To Open Saturday For Yule Mail

Postmaster Ephraim Martin has instructed local post-offices to provide extended service this Saturday to stimulate the early deposit of Christmas cards and packages.

Postoffices which normally close on Saturdays will be open from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Offices which regularly close at 1 p.m. on Saturdays will remain open for their regular weekday hours. The main post office at Boston will also be open this coming Sunday from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Postmaster Martin also advised that by special arrangements with Santa at the North Pole, he will plan to be at the Main Post Office this Sunday to greet all the boys and girls. Mothers and Fathers are urged to bring along their cards and packages at the same time the youngsters are brought in to greet Santa.

Postal officials remind the public that the great load of 200 million pieces of mail normally handled in the Boston Postal District at Christmas will be increased this year by another 20 million pieces as forecast by a ten percent increase in sales of Christmas cards at the retail level. There is also one less delivery day for mail this Christmas, according to the postmaster.

The local superintendent points out that large numbers of local young men and women have signed up for Christmas work in the postoffice. They cannot be employed until the public responds with the mail. All distant mail should be deposited this week. At the same time, postal officials urge patrons to avoid the rush at the postoffice by purchasing a sufficient number of stamps now. The new household coils of stamps with dispenser are proving popular this year.

Cards for foreign countries and packages and cards for the armed forces overseas should be mailed not later than this week and air mail must be used to assure on time delivery.

Lee Loumos Says

Another season of hustle and bustle has rolled around, with store windows seasonally decorated and people getting frenzied over the fact that Christmas, 1961, is upon them. The children are getting starry-eyed over the prospect of Santa Claus, yet how often we forget the people in this country and the world who do not and cannot appreciate the pleasant anticipation that goes along with preparing for Christmas.

Excitement has always been a part of the Yuletide season, and yet, with the increasing crowds in Boston the chore of Christmas shopping becomes more and more tiring. That is one more reason why so many people are shopping at Lee Loumos Co., your suburban Magnavox TV and Stereo Hi-Fi sales and service expert. Come in and find out for yourself how our courteous and personal attention can ease your shopping problems. And let our Christmas carols played so beautifully by a Magnavox Stereo Theatre remind you of the true meaning of Christmas.

Goldman Named Local March Of Dimes Chairman

Maynard Goldman, 20 Nobscot Road, Newton Centre, has been appointed chairman of the March of Dimes 1962 campaign in Newton. It was announced today by Edmund C. Buckley of Cambridge and Salvatore J. DiTucci of Somerville, Co-Campaign Directors of Middlesex East Chapter.

Mr. Goldman is a third year student at Harvard Law School. He is a charter member and trustee of Minuteman Lodge B'Nai B'rith and a member of The State Club.

In accepting the appointment as director of the campaign forces in Newton, Mr. Goldman issued a call for more volunteers to help in the fight against the crippling diseases of birth defects, arthritis and polio.

He said that help was needed to coordinate publicity and organize and participate in a number of special events.

Mr. Goldman will appreciate hearing from all persons who wish to volunteer their services. He may be contacted at his residence or by telephoning KI 7-8452.

DeNucci Fights Joey Giardello In Hub Dec. 12

Newton's Joe DeNucci gets another chance at a national rating on Dec. 12 when he boxes fifth ranked middleweight Joey Giardello of Philadelphia, who reportedly was given a $7500 guarantee.

Promoter Sam Silverman said the bout will be staged at Boston Garden. "He's ready for a national fight," Silverman commented.

DeNucci's bid for national status was halted two years ago. He has a record of 29 wins, two losses and a tie. Most of his victories have been against little known opponents and his two setbacks have been at the hands of Tiger Jones and Chko Vilar. DeNucci has KOed his last four opponents.

Giardello fought a 15-round draw with National Boxing Association champion Gene Fullmer, who thus retained the title.

Community Club Meets Dec. 14th

Lillian and Alfred Lee, both graduates of the New England Conservatory, will present a concert at the regular meeting of the Newton Community Club to be held in Grace Parish House next Thursday, December 14. Preceding the program, dessert will be served at 1:15 P. M. and a business session will be called to order at 2:00. Ladies of the Stone Institute and the Cheerful Club will be special guests.

Miss Lee has studied under Boris Goldovsky, Marie Sundelius, and Olga Averino, while Mr. Lee is on the faculty of the Berklee School of Music. He received his Master's degree at Yale, and is a former student of Dr. Paul Sander in Munich.

Police, Fire Depts. Would Get Raise

Patrolmen in the police department and firefighters in the fire department would be raised to $5500 a year if the Mayor's recommendation is approved.

Increases also will be proposed by Gibbs for all other municipal employees who are not now getting as much money as the Evans Associates recommended be paid them in their report.

The Mayor last February urged wage hikes of about 5 per cent for the municipal workers, but the Aldermen trimmed down the raises to about 4 per cent.

While exact figures are not yet available, it is expected that most city employees would get a modest increase under the Evans formula which the Mayor will seek to put into effect.

Miss Staveley is a major in elementary education and a minor in social studies and English at the university's College of Liberal Arts.

Last year she starred in the Players' production of Sophocles' "Antigone."

Old-Time Yuletide To Be Featured At Jackson Home

The spirit of Christmas in the old tradition, will prevail at the next "Open House" of the Jackson Homestead on Sunday, December the 10th from 3 to 5 o'clock.

Few places lend themselves to the charm of an old fashioned Yuletide as does this historic old mansion with its wreath on the lovely front door and an "old time" Christmas tree in the parlor. On this special occasion, many kins, dressed in the gowns of the period of the House, will preside over the different rooms. In the old dining room, real Christmas punch will be served in front of the open fire by Mrs. E. Tyler Parkhurst, president of the Newton Center Woman's Club and the following committee: Mrs. Harold R. Keller, Mrs. William E. Connors, Mrs. Henry E. Cummings, Mrs. Charles H. Day Jr., Mrs. Charles E. Holly, Mrs. Paul H. Pierce, Mrs. Peter T. Renter, Mrs. Otis E. Stephenson and Mrs. John E. Vander Klish.

Mrs. Malcolm Jackson, president of the Friends of the Jackson Homestead, will greet guests and welcome them into the festive candle-light House. Each room will be decorated in the tradition of the holiday season by the following members of the West Newton Garden Club: Mrs. Stuart Shaffer, Pres. Mrs. Albert E. Burgess, Mrs. Raymond P. Atwood, Mrs. D. Kenneth Dunmore, Mrs. Clarence L. Hauthaway and Mrs. William P. Helms.

As an added attraction there will be an exhibit of antique dolls loaned by Mrs. George Brewer. This exhibit gives a brief glimpse of the art of doll making at home and abroad during the last 150 years and includes many of the "latest Paris fashions". Most unusual in this collection, is a group of Chinese marionettes, with interchangeable heads, used by ancient puppeteers.

There will also be a hand carved crèche — loaned by the Wenham Museum and made by the Industrial School for Crippled children.

Weeks Jr. PTA Donates $50 To WGBH-TV Fund

The Board of the Weeks Junior High School P.T.A. has resolved to donate $50 to educational TV station WGBH (Channel 2) to help in its rebuilding. Weeks' contribution in past years has been $25. Some members felt that the increase should have been greater.

A program of sacred music will be presented in the school auditorium at 7:30 Tuesday, December 12th. The 8th and 9th Girls and Boys Glee Clubs, the Music Theatre Group, the Madrigal Group, the Choriers and the orchestra will present excerpts from "Judas Macabaeus" by Handel and "Amahl and the Night Visitors" by Menotti.

The program will be under the direction of Raymond Smith, Donald March and Miss Anita McDuffie. It will be given during the day for the students at Weeks and will be repeated in January at Newton South High School to the annual meeting of Massachusetts Music Teachers.

Miss Little, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elbert P. Little, 216 Highland street, Newton, is presently a student at the Buckingham School in Cambridge and is in her second year as a cellist with the Youth Symphony.

The orchestra, a 100-member symphony organized by the Boston University Arts Center and some forty-five Boston area schools, will perform under the direction of Conductor Marvin Rabin of Needham, associate professor of music at Boston University's School of Fine and Applied Arts. It will be joined by the Newton High School choral group under the direction of James Remley.

The concert is a scholarship benefit sponsored by the All-Newton Music Club, whose faculty advisor is Henry Lasker of Newton High School.

Great Progress in Israel Reported by Cong. Curtis

(Congressman Curtis, a member of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, who has been visiting both Israel and the Arab countries, reports on Arab-Israel relations, the problem of the Palestine refugees and the great advances made by Israel.)

By LAURENCE CURTIS

TEL AVIV, Israel—A strong impression a U. S. visitor gains here is that Israel's rapid progress in freedom can have great influence on emerging nations which themselves are seeking advancement and are tempted to follow communist methods.

These young countries are not in a position to follow the methods of the United States with its highly developed economy, but Israel furnishes an example which they can aspire to follow. It provides a demonstration of a successful democratic way of living.

Even a short stay in Israel leaves an unforgettable impression of the fortitude and determination which have made possible the remarkable development of this country despite the hardships it faces.

The great advances in Israel have been achieved despite blockades and boycotts imposed by her Arab neighbors. Although the situation on her borders is now quiet, the outlook for a genuinely peaceful solution of Arab-Israel relations is not hopeful. The Arabs insist on regarding Israel as an intruder.

This impasse was especially noticeable in discussions about Palestine refugees. The feeling against Israel is so strong on the Arab side that officials there reject any talk about the resettlement of refugees. Real progress at resettlement would, in their eyes, confirm the permanence of Israel and would settle a grievance which is subject to exploitation.

I was told that an elected Arab official could no more favor resettlement than an elected official in the Far South could favor desegregation.

The result is that through natural increase the number of refugees, now over a million, is growing. Some 800,000 of them, located in several of the Arab countries, are on the ration rolls of the United Nations Relief and Works Agency. The United States bears about 70 per cent of the cost of this UNRWA program, amounting to about $23 million a year.

UNRWA officials with whom I talked saw no immediate solution to this problem. It certainly does appear, however, that the United Nations, and for that matter the free world, must lend their good offices and indeed their insistence that progress be made in relocating these refugees.

My first two stops in the Middle East were Beirut, Lebanon, and Amman, Jordan.

America has been largely supporting the Jordanian army, and the youthful King Hussein has taken a strong pro-western stand. This has not been too popular with some factions in, and even more so out of, Jordan, and several attempts have been made on his life. He has proved himself a strong and courageous leader, although he assumed the throne while under 20 years of age.

After a motor ride of about an hour and a half to Old Jerusalem, I crossed into Israel through the Mendelbaum Gate, the main connection between New and Old Jerusalem. It was enlightening to visit both sides of the border. The points of view, even of American officials, tend to be influenced by their environments. But there are some complications in attempting to visit both sides of the border.

The feeling is so hostile between the Arab lands and Israel that the Arabs make difficulties for travelers who try to enter one of the Arab countries from Israel. So moving in the other direction, as I did, is best.

RESTAURANTS OFFER FREE DINNERS

LONGFELLOW'S WAYSIDE INN—HOTEL 128—AMBASSADOR HOTEL TOWN HOUSE OF WALTHAM—SUDBURY INN—THE COTTAGE CREST—ROBIN HOOD'S TEN ACRES—PLUS 25 OTHERS

A unique Christmas opportunity is being offered by thirty-one restaurants in the Boston area.

In cooperation with the nationally known Dinner Cheques Club thousands of free dinners will be given away. These free dinners are part of an effort by restaurant owners to encourage more dining out during the holiday season.

The free dinners are obtainable through the exclusive Dinner Cheques Club. Membership in this club is offered at a subscription of $5.95. Members are provided an elegant book of 20 Dinner Cheques. Each Cheque is valid for the free dinner of a members guest, when one dinner is purchased at the regular price.

In total, the Club enables a member to treat his guest to over $100 worth of free dinners between now and November 1, 1962. Only one or two Cheques need be used to more than offset the low cost of membership. These cheques make ideal Christmas gifts for friends or relatives living in Massachusetts and Rhode Island.

The list of restaurants participating in this plan include: Longfellow's Wayside Inn, Red Fox Steak House, The Fireside, The Compton House, Coache Grille, Floral Steak House, Hotel 128, Robinhood's Ten Acres, Gundlach's Hofbrauhaus, Captain's Table, The Saxony, Randolph Town House, The Carriage, Nantucket House, Armando's, Oxford House plus 15 others.

In keeping with their individual capacities each restaurant has specified the evenings on which they will honor Dinner Cheques. There are 20 restaurants to choose from on Fridays, 8 on Saturdays, 16 on Sundays and between 19 and 26 each weekday. Restaurants will permit more than one visit enabling members to return time and again for a free dinner at their favorites.

Membership in the Dinner Cheques Club is strictly limited by the restaurant capacities. Applications can be accepted for only a short time. Send $5.95 now to:

Dinner Cheques Club, Box 777, Boston 2, Mass.

For more information call REgent 4-0391, evenings. If not delighted, membership fee will be refunded upon return of book within 15 days.

Girl Scouts Fete Director At Farewell Tea Held Here

ELIZABETH RICHARDSON

A farewell tea for Miss Elizabeth Richardson, executive director of the Newton Girl Scout Council, was held Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Arthur T. Gregorian, National Girl Scout board member, chairman of Region I, and past president and board member of the Newton Girl Scout Council.

About 200 adult members of the Council, including present board and committee members as well as past board members, gathered for the occasion and presented Miss Richardson with an inscribed Paul Revere bowl and a purse in appreciation of her seventeen years of service to Newton Girl Scouting.

Miss Richardson ascribes the growth of Girl Scouting in Newton through the years to the cooperation of community agencies and hundreds of volunteers who have given unselfishly of their time and energy. In the seventeen years of Miss Richardson's service, significant changes have taken place in the Newton Girl Scout program.

The structure of the local organization changed first from village divisions to school areas and, within the past year, to larger neighborhoods each having fifteen or more troops. The reason

Funeral Services Held For Mute Boy Drowning Victim

Fourteen-year-old Steven Guard, Coast Guard, Navy, Civil Air Patrol, fire fighters, skindivers, Boy Scouts and volunteers.

The body was spotted from a helicopter about three miles from St. Coletta's. The marsh, which may have been under a few feet of water when Steven disappeared, is fed by the North River which flows to the sea at Scituate.

Steven was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Smith of 102 Parker avenue, Newton Highlands. Steven had been enrolled at the school operated by Catholic Nuns for about two years. Before that he was a patient at the Kennedy Memorial Hospital in Brighton.

Attending the services were Richard Cardinal Cushing and a delegation of Sisters from St. Coletta's School and the Kennedy Memorial Hospital. Several hours earlier a requiem Mass was offered for Steven's intention in the chapel of St. Coletta's School in Hanover, a school for exceptional children. He wandered away Friday and his body was found on Tuesday after an intensive land, water and air search by police, National Guard, Coast Guard, Navy, Civil Air Patrol, fire fighters, skindivers, Boy Scouts and volunteers.

Volpe May Have Made Boner In Demanding Sullivan Quit

Governor Volpe may have pulled a boner when he demanded the resignation of Boston Police Commissioner Leo J. Sullivan in the raging controversy over a television film of an alleged Back Bay "bookie" joint.

Unless Volpe were prepared to back up his demand by moving to oust Sullivan when the latter refused to get out, he would have done better to bide his time.

A majority of the members of the all-Democratic Governor's Council have declared that they will vote to remove Sullivan if Volpe can show that the police commissioner has not done his job properly and that his discharge would be in the public interest.

That puts the issue squarely up to Mr. Volpe. If Volpe has evidence to warrant the ouster of Sullivan, he should present it to the Executive Council. If he does not possess such evidence, he should not have called upon Sullivan to submit his resignation and get out.

House Breaks Net $6000 In Furs, Gems, Cash

Burglaries which netted close to $6,000 including furs and jewelry obtained in a series of Newton house breaks, were under police investigation.

The dwelling of David Cohen at 47 Nancy Rd., Chestnut Hill, was entered between 2 and 10 p.m. Saturday and furs worth $4,500 were stolen. Among the missing items were a full length mink coat worth $2,000 and two mink stoles.

Also stolen was a wrist watch, silverware and silver candlesticks.

Jewelry, watches and a camera valued at $1,000 were stolen by burglars who ransacked upstairs bedrooms at the home of Ralph E. Schoonmaker at 11 Manitoba Rd., Waban. The most valuable single piece was a $350 diamond wrist watch.

No Additional Package Store Licenses Here

No additional licenses for retail liquor package stores will be issued by the Board of License Commissioners in Newton until after 1962, according to a statement from the commissioners this week.

They are of the opinion that there are currently operating in Newton a sufficient number of package stores to satisfy the needs of the community, namely, forty-one package store licenses. They consist of seventeen full package stores, seventeen wine and malt package stores, and seven druggist all-alcoholic permits.

Mayor Donald L. Gibbs expressed keen, personal disappointment this week over the failure to secure enough names on an initiative petition designed to repeal the law authorizing extension of the Massachusetts Toll Road through Newton into Boston.

The result is a stalemate, he said, and added "now something's got to give."

Sponsors of the anti-toll road petition set their sights on a total of 100,000 signatures, but fell short of the 72,514 required to present to the Legislature when it convenes in January.

Then, if the Legislature refused to act, backers of the move had intended to force the issue on the ballot next November.

"Naturally I am disappointed that the petition did not get enough names to go through so it could be presented to the Legislature," Mayor Gibbs said. He had spearheaded the drive in Newton to obtain the necessary signatures.

"I was pinning my hopes that this petition would be a means of repealing the Toll Road law; I was hoping that the voters would do what the legislature has not done."

"In our area we did a pretty good job of securing signatures. But the interest is not the same in other sections of the state as it is in Newton."

Mother Saves Drowning Tot From River

Three-year-old Michelle Young is none the worse for her brush with death after she was found face down in the Charles River at the rear of the Young home at 1 Keefe Ave., Newton Upper Falls.

Her mother, Mrs. Marie Young, waded into the water and pulled Michelle to safety after her son, William, 4, ran into the house to tell her that his sister fell into the water while both were playing on the bank, last Wednesday.

A neighbor called police who administered artificial respiration and rushed the child to Newton-Wellesley Hospital where Michelle was treated for immersion and held overnight.

A proposal to construct a six-story apartment house at a cost of $600,000 in Chestnut Hill at the Brookline line was outlined Monday night at a public hearing before the Newton Aldermanic Claims and Rules Committee.

Mrs. Edwin W. Folsom will direct the twenty-three voice choir which includes Estelle Munson, Barbara Reed, Kenneth Lappin, Robert Moulton and Joseph O'Toole as soloists. Diane Cullington, pianist, will assist P. Edward Fenninger, organist.

Lee Loumos Says

I recently had a telephone call inquiring about stereo-high fidelity and was specifically asked, "How does Magnavox rate?" It is seldom that I can give as definite an answer as I did in this instance. In a recent impartial survey by "Billboard" of better grade instruments it was determined that Magnavox had more than 50% of the market. Just think, that means that Magnavox makes and sells more fine instruments than the rest of the entire industry combined! Even in components — not including the beautiful Magnavox cabinets — you can get equal quality and performance at comparable prices. No wonder that we are constantly in a back order condition in this category.

So, if you are thinking of treating yourself to beautiful music for Christmas — NOW is the time to come in and select your set to insure Christmas delivery. You will be surprised how low the prices are — there is a price range and style to fit any requirement and for your continued convenience we will be open every night till Christmas.

Following the ceremonies in Oslo, Dr. Reuling will make official visits to missions of the United Church Board for World Ministries in Southern Rhodesia and South Africa. He and Mrs. Reuling served as missionaries in South Africa from 1927 to 1941 under the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions, now a part of the United Church Board for World Ministries.

Yule Pageant To Be Held Tonight At Lasell College

A Christmas pageant will be staged by Lasell Junior College students tonight (Thursday) evening, December 14, at 7:30 p.m. outdoors on the college campus in Newton.

The Christmas story as told by Scriptures and carols will be enacted by students who will be attired in authentic costumes brought from Israel by Mrs. Jeanne B. Cousins, faculty member and pageant director.

Lamp-lighters, Lasell harmony group, will lead the parade of students to the terrace of Winslow Hall where the pageant will be staged. Christmas carols will be sung by the Orphean Club, 170-voice Lasell choral group, and members of the Lasell Dance Club will enact the Nativity scene. Miss Sue Petrie will be narrator. The public is invited to attend.

for these changes was to provide adequate help to our volunteer leaders in order that the girls could have the best possible program.

The office was moved in 1947 from Newtonville to Newton Highlands to be nearer Newton's population center and the ever-growing south side of the city. Membership grew from 1600 to 2100 girls. The adult membership has grown from 385 to about 600. Hundreds of women have been trained for service in the organization, to provide Girl Scout program for approximately 10,000 individual girls during the years Miss Richardson has been in Newton. To make possible a broader and more satisfying day camp program for Newton Girl Scouts, the day camp was moved from Riverside to Edmand's Park in 1945, then to the newly acquired Quabbin property in 1947, and to Camp Mary Day in 1955 where it serves 150 girls during each of its two-week sessions.

The established camp moved from Camp Mary Day after the Massachusetts Turnpike was built, to Camp Wabasso in Bradford, New Hampshire, in 1957. This camp was purchased, after a great deal of work on the part of many volunteers, with the generous contributions of Newton residents. Camp Wabasso, with Miss Richardson as its director for four of its five years of operation, has provided fun and adventure for nearly 1500 girls during those five years.

Miss Richardson leaves Newton to become Administrator of Camping for the Massachusetts Girl Scout Council. This is a large area council made up of Girl Scout councils in central Massachusetts.

Assisting in the arrangements for the tea were the present Newton board members assisted by Mrs. Eugene Brody and Mrs. David Chase, vice presidents of the Newton Girl Scout Council, Mrs. Guy King and Mrs. Russell Broad. Pourers during the afternoon were former Newton Girl Scout Council presidents, Mrs. George H. Larsen, Mrs. Henry Whitmore, Mrs. Earl Bourne, Mrs. Mark Walker, the pre-

Political Highlights

So far Volpe has not brought any removal charges against Sullivan.

Volpe would not have a difficult time firing Sullivan—if he has a case against the police commissioner.

A poll of the members of the Executive Council disclosed that Sullivan is not popular with them.

There is no disposition to fight for him as there would be if Volpe sought to throw out MDC Commissioner Robert F. Murphy or State Public Works Commissioner Jack P. Ricciardi.

But the Councilors aren't willing to fire Sullivan on the basis of unsubstantiated charges or on the strength of a TV film.

Volpe appears to have committed himself to seeking Sullivan's removal.

It seems improbable that he would initiate ouster proceedings before District Attorney Garrett H. Byrne concludes his probe, and he might not do so until the Boston Finance Commission completes its administrative investigation.

If Volpe finds then that he doesn't have a case against the police commissioner, he will be in a somewhat awkward position because of his own statement and demand for Sullivan's resignation.

It's one thing to show a film of police officers walking into a "bookie" joint. It's something else again to prove that Sullivan was to blame for what they did.

Richardson and Brooke Maneuver for Position

Behind the scenes in the Republican party a tug-of-war for political position is going on between former U. S. Attorney Elliot L. Richardson and Boston Finance Commission Chairman Edward W. Brooke.

Both Richardson and Brooke hope to be the GOP nominee for Attorney General next year. There is little doubt but that the two will be opponents at the Republican State Convention next June.

On the day Brooke flew out to California to confer with Governor Volpe a notice was filed at the State House that a committee had been organized to promote his candidacy for Attorney General.

While Richardson has not made any public pronouncement or authorized the formation of any campaign committee in his behalf, he obviously has set his sights on the post now held by Attorney General Edward J. McCormack, Jr.

Because the Finance Commission which Brooke heads is making an administrative investigation of the Boston police department, Brooke has been more prominently in the

HNS Hears Pro And Con MTA Strike

More than 200 members of St. Bernard's Holy Name Society in West Newton, heard both sides of the question "Should the MTA Have the Right to Strike?" at a panel discussion following the Communion Mass last Sunday.

Society president George Bresnahan introduced the moderator, William J. Fallon, chairman of the State Board of Conciliation and Arbitration, and members of the panel.

Management's side was upheld by John Teagan, vice president of the New England Electric System, and John Hennessey, director of public relations for the Boston Edison Co.

Presenting labor's side were Henry Nolan, business manager, Local No. 104, IBEW, and Thomas Sullivan, business manager, Local No. 396, IBEW.

The argument for management was that "the workers of the MTA are employees of a government with the obligation to protect its citizens and therefore do not have the right to strike."

The labor officials, however, disagreed that the MTA was part of the state government, and pointed to the lack of civil service status for its employees.

Newton Flyer Promoted To AF Captain

Air Force Capt. John A. Dutton, an instructor pilot for the USAF's twin-engine Convair aircraft, recently won promotion to his present rank. He is stationed at Mather AFB, California, where his job is to train other pilots assigned to fly navigator training missions.

Capt. Dutton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Warren E. Dutton of 361 Cherry street, Newton, has been in the Air Force six years. This includes one year in Korea where he received the Presidential Unit Citation.

He is a graduate of Newton High School and played football at Colby College four years. He was on the varsity squad for three, co-captain in 1955 and all-Maine the same year. Capt. Dutton received his reserve commission in the AF as a result of college ROTC training.

Local Students On Committee

Two area students have been chosen committee chairmen for the 1962 Winter Carnival Weekend to be held at the University of Massachusetts February 16-18. Myer Rosenthal, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Rosenthal of 77 Fairway Drive, will head the concert committee, and Barry Weiner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Weiner of 47 Ripley Street, is publicity chairman.

Mr. Rosenthal is a member of Alpha Epsilon Pi fraternity, Phi Eta Sigma, freshman men's honor fraternity, and the Maroon Key, a sophomore men's honorary society. He is on the executive council of the class of 1963 and is chairman of the Campus Chest charity drive. A pre-med major, he is on the Honors List.

Mr. Weiner, a member of Tau Epsilon Pi fraternity, is also chairman of the Interfraternity Council's Greek Ball, the Centennial Committee, and has participated in Campus Varieties and the annual Student Workshop Activities Project (SWAP) Conference. Both are 1959 graduates of Newton High School.

pressed in a state-wide scramble since none of the three is well known outside his own district.

Crusading Republican Commends McCormack

A crusading Republican legislator this week paid warm tribute to Democratic Attorney General Edward J. McCormack Jr. for his handling of the waterways investigation and at the same time rapped the "indifference" of other public officials.

Representative Francis W. Perry, whose charges triggered the probe into the operations of the State Waterways Division, declared that McCormack and members of his staff conducted the investigation with skill and courage "in spite of many hindrances and the indifference of some public officials."

Perry asserted that the progress McCormack has been achieving in the probe indicates that he is carrying out his pledge "to investigate without fear or favor." He did not identify the other officials he considers "indifferent."

Bill Favors Land Taking At Norumbega

Newton Republican legislator and the Democratic City Committee Chairman have joined forces backing a bill to direct the Metropolitan District Commission to take a strip along the Charles River at Norumbega Park.

The bill which was filed before last week's deadline would have the M.D.C. take back a tract it sold in 1947 plus a strip about 200 feet wide on the river bank connecting with the M.D.C. police station land, for "park, recreation and conservation purposes. About one third of the present park area is involved.

Petitioners on the bill are: Representatives Arthur G. Heaney, Lorenz F. Muther, Jr., and George E. Rawson, Democratic City Committee Chairman Lawrence E. Cooke and Senator Leslie B. Cutler.

Earlier this year the Newton Board of Aldermen turned down a proposal to develop Norumbega Park for high rise apartments and a motel.

Local Students Receive Honors At Rivers Day

Several local students, Mark Harmon, of Newton; James Swain, of Chestnut Hill, and William Roberts, of Waban, have won honors for the first quarter at the Rivers Country Day School in Weston.

Robert Riseman, Richard Aron and Steven Cline of Newton received honorable mention, as did Frederick Scott, of Auburndale, Robert Bunshaft and Harry Dine of Newton

Civil Defense Know-how Vital If Attack Comes Says Speaker

The certainties that in the States, there will be survivors of any conceivable attack against the United States, and that there will be more survivors with Civil Defense preparation than without it, was stressed by Francis M. Reilly of the U. S. Office of Civil Defense in his talk last Sunday to the Holy Name Society of the Church of Lourdes, Newton Upper Falls.

"Our current objective is to provide the greatest amount of protection that can be made available in the shortest possible time at the least expense. By the end of this month, for example, 700 contracts will have been awarded in a program designed to identify and mark with a distinctive sign suitable existing facilities that may serve as public shelters."

"Knowledge is the key to survival. As President Kennedy has said: 'To recognize the possibilities of nuclear war in the missile age without our citizens knowing what they should do and where they should go if bombs begin to fall, would be a failure of responsibility.'"

For many years an instructor in science, Mr. Reilly, with visual aids, gave a clear and concise demonstration of the nature of the threat facing the civilian population and the program designed to meet that threat. He described the destructive effects of heat, blast and fallout resulting from a nuclear explosion and the inability to detect radiation fallout by sight, taste, smell, hearing or touch.

"A home-alerting device called 'near' has been successfully tested and will soon be available for operation," he said. "This system consists of a wall plug-in device for the house which is triggered by a signal generator in the power plants to produce a foolproof all-weather alerting system which can reach every home in America."

Kits containing the latest available information on community and family shelters, the "near" system, family radiation measurement devices, survival food and food kits, first aid emergency actions, and other aspects of the Civil Defense program were distributed to the large number of Holy Name Society members at the meeting.

Mr. Reilly recommended, among other things, that all heads of families assemble a 2-week food supply in their home areas for use in any possible civil defense or other type of emergency. In answer to questions following his talk, Mr. Reilly stated that it is logical to assume that all types of aid programs such as grants and incentives such as tax advantages will be considered as the shelter survey program progresses.

Newton High Hoopsters Seeking Win

That initial victory still eluded the Newton High basketball team which dropped its first two encounters, both non-league.

The sharp-shooting, taller Exeter Academy easily outclassed the Tigers, 75-52, in a game last Wednesday at Exeter, N. H. In addition Newton was short-handed in the backcourt.

Then, Friday night Newton was toppled, 61-51, at Belmont High in a game which at one point saw the Tigers as many as 21 points astern.

In addition, the Women's Committee distributed sweaters to forty older people under the care of the JFCS, the major family counselling and welfare agency of the Combined Jewish Philanthropies of greater Boston.

According to Mrs. Robert I. Berman, president of the JFCS Women's Committee, planning for the Chanukah distribution started several months ago. The social worker assigned to each child was asked to find out what gift the child most wanted. A committee of women spent many weeks shopping on a personalized basis for each of these gifts. Another committee was in charge of gift wrapping and labelling the presents.

"In many cases, these were the only gifts the children received at Chanukah time," Mrs. Berman said. "The joy of one seven year old who got a sled, or of a ten year old girl who wanted a good dictionary, or of an eight year old boy who got a model airplane that he had been dreaming about all year long, made all our efforts worthwhile."

The packages were placed in separate boxes for each social worker who then gave the gift to the child. At no time does the Women's Committee, itself, come in direct contact with the children.

The Chanukah distribution has been an annual project of the Women's Committee for close to 20 years. Composed of 4,000 women, the Women's Committee serves and works in behalf of the Jewish Family and Children's Service and Camp Kinkwood, a summer camp located in Bridgton, Maine. The organization has made substantial contributions to both agencies to enable them to better serve families and children throughout the Boston metropolitan area.

Nixon Agency Opens Newton Branch Office

John P. Nixon, owner of the Nixon Insurance Agency, announced today the opening of a branch service office of his firm at 8:15 Washington street, Newtonville (DEatur 2-5576).

"Since we offer all types of fire, casualty and life insurance coverage," Mr. Nixon said, "most of our clients want to discuss their needs with us personally from time to time. We believe this service office will make it more convenient for them to do so — and will mean even better service for our growing list of Newton and west of Boston customers. Of course, our 141 Milk street, Boston office will continue to be our headquarters."

The Nixon Agency, founded in 1926 by Mr. Nixon's father, the late Ernest Nixon of Newtonville, recently received recognition for twenty-five years of continuous representation of the Lumbermens Mutual Insurance Company of Chicago.

A nearly life-long resident of Newton, John Nixon is well known in the city's civic affairs. A graduate of the Newton Schools and Dartmouth College, he was recently elected to a fifth term as Alderman-At-Large from Ward 3 and is a incorporator of the Newton Savings Bank.

Mr. and Mrs. Nixon and their son, David, reside at 36 Crestwood road, West Newton. John Jr., is a lieutenant in the U.S. Marine Corps.

Boy Victim-

Steven left a brother, Howard, 7, besides his parents.

An autopsy showed that Steven died of drowning the first day of his disappearance, according to Medical Examiner Dr. Raymond G. Vinal.

An Air Force helicopter spotted the boy's body, face up, in about a foot of water.

There had been little hope that Steven could have survived four nights in the swampy woodlands in near-freezing temperatures.

Steven's teachers said he loved books, although he could not read. In addition, he was being taught to speak and was excited at being able to pronounce a few simple words.

Sister Superior Mary George of St. Coletta's said after Steven was found:

"There will be a Mass offered in our Chapel for Steven. We are deeply grieved. Our prayers are with the parents and with the hope God will give them the strength to face this."

Mrs. Robert McCourt, president of the Newton-Wellesley Hospital Junior Aid, announced at a recent meeting that the annual fund raising activity for the 1961-1962 season would be a Mardi Gras Ball to be held March 2nd at the West Newton Armory, 1137 Washington Street, West Newton.

"For many of them it is a far-away problem," he continued.

"They don't have the immediate concern we have. It should be of just as much interest to people of Worcester or Springfield to fight for removal of this law. It would save them money."

"If they ride the Toll Road to Weston, they could ride on a free way the rest of the way into Boston. I can't see why they should want to pay for that ride. It would be just as good a road."

Several years ago the legislature passed an act giving Turnpike Authority Chairman William F. Callahan authority to build a Toll Road from Weston to Boston. Thus far two attempts to sell bonds to underwrite the costs of the Toll Road have been unsuccessful, and he reportedly was preparing for a third try.

"If Callahan can't sell the bonds he can't build the Toll Road extension," Mayor Gibbs explained.

"And judging from past performances, the Legislature will not repeal the law giving him sole authority to build the extension. I would like to say I think they will, but I doubt it very much. "Now we have a stalemate; something has to give."

Presently there are two bills on file with the House Clerk which call for repeal of the law giving Chairman Callahan authority to build the extension.

One was filed by Rep. George W. Rawson of Newton for the American Automobile Association and the second was filed by Rep. Sumner Z. Kaplan of Brookline. Both would repeal the 1955 law authorizing the Turnpike Authority to build the extension.

Dwight S. Strong, chairman of the Protect the Hub Association, said the final total of signatures fell "somewhat short" of the required 72,514. He said some 75,000 names were obtained from throughout the state, but many of them were not certified by local boards of registrars.

The drive for signatures in Newton netted 6,246. These were delivered by Mayor Gibbs to the headquarters of the Association at 3 Joy St., Boston, last Tuesday.

Proponents of the freeway have estimated that a freeway could be built for $90 million and that the federal government would pay 90 per cent of the cost of the project.

CATHOLICS GET INSURANCE AT LOW COST

Catholic men and women now get low cost hospital insurance from our non-profit Society. Here is an example. A Catholic man under 61 can now pay only $2.05 a month and receive $50 each week while hospitalized by the insurance of our non-profit Society. Payments of $100 or $150 are also available for a slightly higher cost. Catholic women get an identical policy for $2.35 a month.

Payments are made in addition to any other insurance, including Workmen's Compensation. You spend the money as you wish — for hospital bills, doctors, or expenses at home. You use your own doctor and choose any lawfully operated hospital. Your insurance begins the first day you are in the hospital. You need this policy now — inflation has increased hospital rates 375% since 1940. As a result, most people do not have enough insurance. People who used their insurance last year found that it paid an average of only $10 of every dollar needed.

This insurance is offered to you by the Catholic Association of Foresters (formerly Massachusetts Catholic Order of Foresters). It has paid out over $62,000,000 in benefits to Catholic families. A variety of life insurance and hospital insurance policies are offered by this eighty-two year old Fraternal Benefit Society. By charter, memberships are available only to practical Catholics.

Get all the facts on this low cost protection. Mail the coupon today for free information. There is no obligation of course. Don't delay. One person in every three families will be in the hospital this year.

4 House Bills Filed By Rep. Lorenz Muther

Two parking control bills, a "legislative price-tag" bill and a bill to encourage further use of private capital in urban redevelopment have been filed by Representative Lorenz F. Muther, Jr., of Newton, for the 1962 session of the Legislature.

The parking control bills would authorize the use of meter maids as parking control officers, and would authorize cities and towns to require reasonable off-street parking at land used for educational purposes.

The "price-tag" bill would require an estimate of the cost or estimate of the increases in revenue anticipated under the provisions of any bill favorably reported out by any committee of the Legislature for action.

The urban redevelopment bill would expand the dividend limits of urban redevelopment corporations so that private capital could be encouraged to take some of the load for redevelopment in older areas from the presently almost entirely tax-supported agencies.

MRS. ABRAHAM FELDBERG

Newton Women Gets Personnel Position at BU

Mrs. Abraham A. Feldberg, of Newton, has been appointed assistant to the personnel director of Boston University, according to a statement this week from Harold C. Case, president of the university.

She will assist in the recruitment, testing and training of new employees, planning and administration of employee relations, and research and projects concerning employee utilization.

Mrs. Feldberg has had several years' experience in the various phases of personnel administration. She was secretary-report analyst for the War Production Board and later an economist for the War Labor Board during the war. She later worked as a job and wage analyst for the John Hancock Insurance Company, and prior to her appointment at Boston University, was a personnel specialist at McLean Hospital in Belmont.

In addition, Mrs. Feldberg has been teaching business in adult education classes at Newton High School for the past seven years.

Also active in community affairs, Mrs. Feldberg has been vice-president of Oak Hill Hadassah and study group leader of the Brandeis Women's Group. She is also a member of the League of Women Voters.

Mrs. Feldberg, an alumna of Boston University, received a Bachelor of Business Administration degree in 1944. The Feldbergs have three children: Warren, 12; Paul, 10; and Marjorie, 7.

Traditional Christmas dinners are served free in Salvation Army institutions across the country.

Tardy Christmas Mailers May Face Disappointment

The great mail load of Christmas has begun to roll into post offices. Lines of stamp purchasers kept postal window clerks busy beginning last Monday morning. The parcel post windows had heavy patronage as last minute mailers sought to get gifts in transit for Christmas delivery since the closing date for these packages has already past.

Extra collections from street letter boxes have been ordered this week. In order to facilitate handling the 220 million pieces in the Boston District in the next ten days, facing and tying cards in local and out-of-town packages would prove helpful to the post office, said Postmaster Ephraim Martin. Air parcel post was recommended for parcels going long distances and perishables should be properly packed and identified and brought to the post office.

All post offices will be open this Saturday and a number will be open next Sunday, December 17th. It is reminded, however, that mail sent at that late date should be for local delivery. The last delivery date is Saturday, December 23rd. Special deliveries will be handled on Sunday, Dec. 24 and Christmas Day.

Postmaster Martin also called special attention to the matter of having dark areas cleared of articles stored or left in the vicinity of the home mail receptacle which might cause injury to a temporary mail carrier. Names should be on the box and homes should have numbers. Mail should be removed from home letter boxes promptly. Every effort will be made by postal officials to give priority to business mail. The extra services of the post offices are also endorsed for use at Christmas such as registry for valuables, insurance, special handling and money orders instead of cash in the mail.

"Any apathy on the part of the public in holding mail until a few days before Saturday, December 23rd will cause a serious congestion in our offices," said the postmaster, "we must move at least twenty million pieces every day if our flow is to be efficient. If a storm should come in the next ten days we shall be in real difficulty without early mailing."

Tigers Win Opening Ice Games

Newton High School's ice-men, boasting wins in the first two games of the schoolboy hockey season, appear to be headed toward a "fair year" in words of Coach Sarge Klinlin.

The Tigers edged Exeter Academy, 2-1, last Wednesday in a game played at the rink of the private school in New Hampshire and then fired a 5-0 win over Rindge Tech at the Boston Arena Saturday afternoon in the opening game of the Greater Boston League.

Exeter took the lead at 5:22 of the second period on a goal by J. Stevens, but two minutes later Billy Cotter scored the equalizer and in the third period junior defenseman Bob Fox scored the winning tally unassisted at 5:45.

Newton scored all its five goals in the first two periods against Rindge Tech. Sophomore Billy Cotter counted twice.

A CUSTOM OLD IN STORY — This little youngster, hanging huge stocking hopefully, in anticipation of visit by Santa Claus, is performing a rite that is as old as history, and a matter of some controversy.

Rite Of Hanging Christmas Stocking Is Old In History

"and the stockings were hung by the chimney with care, in hopes that St. Nicholas soon would be there."

The words of Clement Clark Moore's immortal Christmas poem beautifully describe a custom American children have followed for 800 years. How did it all start?

A doubtful legend ascribes it to a happy accident. One Christmas Eve, in the 4th century, the Bishop of Myra, a kindly churchman who came to be known as Santa Claus, stopped at the home of a poor merchant.

The merchant had two lovely daughters of marrying age, but the girls had never been asked to wed because their father couldn't afford dowries.

Taking pity on the family, the Bishop had decided to give them a Christmas gift—a bag of gold!

Climbing up to the roof of the merchant's house to avoid being seen, the Bishop of Myra dropped the bag of gold down the chimney and quite by accident, it fell into a stocking that had been hung on the mantle to dry.

If this was the first Christmas stocking, it was a patchwork affair of woolen shreds. The people of the day had little knowledge of the weaving and sewing arts. Most articles of clothing were merely wrapped around the body and pinned in place.

In documents of the 11th century, modern historians get their first hint that the legend of the Christmas stocking is not based on fact. It's not until the 11th century that stockings had feet! Did Santa go around dropping gifts into bottomless socks for 700 years?

11th Century Birth of Yule Stocking
It's more likely that the Christmas stocking custom was born between the 11th and 14th centuries. During this period, knights and merchants from northern Europe began traveling to and trading with the southern nations. For centuries, the children of sunny Spain had been practicing a Christmas custom very similar to our stocking custom.

Spanish lore teaches that the three Kings of the Orient pass through Spain each year on a very round-about route to Bethlehem where they pay annual tribute to the Christ child.

On Epiphany Eve, the night of the journey, Spanish children fill their shoes with straw for the travelers' horses and leave them outside. On Epiphany morning, the shoes are miraculously filled with gifts!

The Spanish custom was probably brought back to the British Isles and translated into our Christmas stocking version.

By the 16th century, St. Nick's gifts were received in hoisery of pure silk. The style-conscious men and women of Europe in the 1500's wore only silk stockings... even in winter. When cold Christmas weather came, they just donned several pair of hose at once!

On Christmas Eve in Colonial New England, only the plainest black or brown woolen stockings hung on the mantles, awaiting Santa's bounty.

There is one similarity, however, between the bright, decorative Christmas stockings of today and those of history—the delight in the eyes of the kids who empty them on Christmas morning!

Living With Your Heart; Heart Fables - Facts

("Living With Your Heart" is a community service of the Massachusetts Heart Association.)

BOSTON—If there is one institution America has taken to its heart, it is the old wives' tale. And the old wives' tale seems to come into its fullest flower when its devotees start talking about medicine.

Particularly in the field of your heart and circulation, these baseless ideas can do damage, because they are alike in one respect: they are unduly, even foolishly, pessimistic.

Never in the history of mankind has there been so much ground for optimism among persons with cardiovascular ailments. Research over the past decade has taken giant strides to relieve heart ills, and to lengthen life. Even though this family of diseases ranks as our foremost health problem, leading cardiologists are united in believing that prevention and cure are possible in many ailments for which no panacea is as yet available.

Meanwhile, what the Massachusetts Heart Association terms "heart fables" persist. What's your score on these heart fact and fables? THE FACT: — Nothing can be done about heart disease.

THE FACT: — Some forms of heart disease can be prevented, some can be cured, and doctors can help almost all cases, especially if they are diagnosed early.

THE FACT: — Most heart attacks are fatal.

THE FACT: — After a heart attack, most persons recover and lead productive lives.

(If you doubt it—just look around your circle of friends!)

THE FACT: — Murmurs, chest pains and palpitations are sure signs of heart trouble.

THE FACT: — Only your doctor can tell for sure, but if every chest pain, palpitation or murmur were a heart attack our population would be considerably smaller than it is. In many instances they are not due to organic disease. If you are in doubt, see your doctor and clear the air.

THE FACT: — Women with heart disease should not have children.

THE FACT: — With proper medical care most women with heart disease can have children safely. Massachusetts Heart Association counsel is always available to lighten the burden of homemaking for cardiac mothers.

THE FABLE: — You can't work if you have heart disease.

THE FACT: — Most people can earn their living, often without having to change jobs. Among those who have done so successfully: playwright Moss Hart, drummers, Gene Krupa and Buddy Rich, and a gentleman farmer named Dwight David Eisenhower.

Advance Rating Offered By Naval Reserve

WASHINGTON—The Chief of Naval Personnel has announced that the Navy now offers to ex-Navy and Coast Guardsmen, as well as certain qualified civilians, high petty officer ratings in the Naval Reserve.

Rear Admiral Almon E. Loomis, speaking for Vice Admiral William R. Smedberg, III, explained that former Navy men may now be enlisted or reenlisted in the Naval Reserve without regard to time elapsed since last discharge. An earlier policy made it necessary for former petty officers to enlist in the Naval Reserve within 6 months after discharge from active duty in order to keep the rate held at discharge.

This new announcement affords former Navy petty officers the opportunity to participate as active members of the Naval Reserve in their own community. Many discharged Navy men have only a few years to go before they are eligible for retirement. There are 22 Naval Reserve Training Centers in the New England Area located in all large centers of population.

Mary F. Leehan

Mrs. Mary F. (Murphy) Leehan, 75, who lived at 24 Lexington St., West Newton for many years until she moved to Waltham last year, died Monday, Dec. 11, at a Waltham nursing home. She was born in County Galway, Ireland, and lived in West Newton for more than 50 years.

A solemn requiem Mass was offered this morning in St. Bernard's Church, Mrs. Leehan was a member of the Ladies Auxiliary and the Ancient Order of Hibernians. She is survived by her husband, retired Newton Police Sgt. Thomas F. Leehan; a son, John J. of Newton; a sister, Mrs. Anne Glenn of Waltham; six grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Although urban streets and highways make up only about 12 percent of the nation's total road mileage, they carry nearly one-half of the vehicle-miles of traffic, according to the American Automobile Association.

Post Office Lists Helps On Yule Mailing

With Thanksgiving a recent memory, Postmaster J. Frank Colbert said this week, "It's Christmas every day in the Post Office from now on."

He offered these helpful hints on how to mail Christmas cards and gifts to insure prompt and safe delivery before Dec. 25.

"Use 4 cents postage on your Christmas cards. Sent by first class mail, they are sorted and delivered first, and if you include in your return address on each envelope, they will be forwarded in the event of a change of address, or if they are undeliverable, will be returned to you. Also, you can write a personal message on the Christmas cards sent by first class mail; whereas only your signature is authorized on cards sent at the 3 cents, unsealed third class rate.

"Avoid careless packing of your gifts. Use strong cartons, wrap in heavy paper, and tie with sturdy cord. Mark packages containing breakable gifts. 'Fragile - Handle With Care.' Put an extra label carrying the recipient's and sender's name and address inside every package."

In conclusion, the postmaster said, "By taking a little extra care with your Christmas mailings right now, you'll avoid disappointing friends and loved ones. The post office is fully prepared for the big Christmas mail rush, but through your cooperation in mailing early and often, as suggested by the National Improved Mail Service program, there'll be less danger of some Christmas cards and packages not being delivered before Christmas."

For the Father himself loved you.—(John 16:27).

God's love keeps us from all harm; it directs us into paths of safe conduct; it releases us from strained, tense conditions; it leads us to follow after peace and order.

Polio Victims To Benefit From Insurance Companies

In the first nine months of 1961, polio victims received more than $4.3 million in benefits from insurance companies under the provisions of special polio expense policies, the Health Insurance Institute reported today.

The HII said polio benefit payments by insurance companies were slightly less than last year but that the incidence of polio was sharply down from 1960.

Through September 30 of this year, persons protected by polio expense policies received an estimated $4,301,000 in benefits from insurance companies, a decrease of six per cent from the $4,577,000 in polio benefits paid in the same 1960 period.

However, Public Health Service figures show that there were 915 reported cases of polio in the United States in the first nine months of 1961, which includes the peak summer polio months. This was a decrease of 60 per cent from the 2,290 cases of polio reported in the first three-quarters of last year, which ended up being the lowest year for polio since 1938.

The HII said the fact that benefits did not decline as rapidly as the polio incidence illustrates the cost of long-term recuperative and treatment needs involved in the illness. The Institute also pointed out that the polio benefit figures were limited to payments made under polio expense policies and did not include the benefits to polio victims under other types of health insurance policies.

This year seems certain to be the lowest for polio incidence since 1915, said the HII.

Blood Supply and Strokes: They're Related

Just as a heart attack is caused by a reduction of the blood supply to the heart, a stroke is caused by a reduction of the blood supply to the brain. When the arteries which supply the brain become narrowed, the patient can have a number of different reactions. He may become tired, dizzy, have headaches, double vision, or numbness or tingling of the arms or legs. His mental prowess may in general weaken, so that he has trouble adding or finding the word he wants. Later his difficulty may turn into full-fledged "senile dementia" in which memory disappears in the reverse order of learning, and the patient grows befuddled as to time, place and personality.

Strokes were once believed to occur only in the aged, but recent statistics have disproven this theory. Although they are more prevalent among older people, strokes have been known to strike members of every age group. Also, some medical scientists have observed that hardening of the cerebral arteries or changes in the brain can bring out neuroses in otherwise nearly normal patients. Sometimes this reaction is the only indication that a stroke has occurred.

As a radiologist, I can often pinpoint the exact root of the trouble by an x-ray examination known as cerebral angi-

Problems, Parents, Popularity High On List Of Teen Concerns

Problems, parents, popularity—why girls like boys and boys like girls.

These are the main concerns of a group of 60 Cape Cod youngsters as revealed in a series of teenage talk-over sessions that brought "straight from the shoulder" questions, opinions and need on their part for better parental guidance and improved parent-teenage communication.

What are the biggest problems confronting teenagers today? Parents, school, money, curfew and members of the opposite sex, just to name a few. Personality, clothes, smoking and drinking, planning a career and religion—these add to the list.

"We wish our parents would" (say the teenagers) realize that times have changed since they were young, let us choose our own friends, lose an argument with us once in a while, increase our allowance, and set a good example for us to follow.

Girls like boys, reports Prof. Joseph D. Burroughs, Extension family life specialist, School of Home Economics, University of Massachusetts, who: respect her standards, ideals and feelings; are polite, go to church, act mature and do not smoke, drink or swear.

Boys like girls who: are nice looking, aren't snobs, consider our pocketbooks, don't lead us on, are good sports with a sense of humor, and have decent moral standards and principles.

This, in part, lays it on the line so far as teenagers are concerned, says Professor Burroughs. What can parents do to improve communications with their teenagers?

They can listen to what they have to say, don't do all the talking, take them seriously, when they are serious. They can try to understand how the teenager sees the situation, and accept their feelings because they may not be able to change although they usually can control their actions.

"Encourage their efforts to solve their own problems,"

Young Newton Musicians In Concert Here Sunday

Several young Newton musicians, students in local schools, will take part in the concert of the Greater Boston Youth orchestra to be held at Newton High School auditorium next Sunday afternoon, December 17, starting at 4 o'clock.

The concert is a scholarship benefit sponsored by the Music Club of Newton High School of which Henry Lasker is faculty advisor.

An original composition, "Les Emotions Changeantes," by 17-year-old Elizabeth Little, while she was a student in the music theory class at Newton High School, will be featured at the concert. It is her second year as a cellist with the Youth Symphony orchestra. She is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Elbert P. Little, 216 Highland street, Newton. She is a student at Buckingham School in Cambridge.

Other Newton youngsters who will play with the orchestra are:

Newton Women At Seminar In New York City

Four Newton women, officers of the Newton League of Women Voters, attended a community leaders seminar on the United Nations and world affairs, sponsored by the Foreign Policy Association-World Affairs Center, at New York City, last Friday, December 8th.

Newt. Highlands Congregational Church Service

The regular Family Service and Church School will not be held at the Newton Highlands Congregational Church on Sunday, December 24, inasmuch as all church families will be attending the special morning Christmas service together.

The combined Junior, Youth and Adult Choirs, of more than one hundred voices, will participate in the service of music directed by Edward H. Hastings, organist and choir-master.

The program will include: Organ prelude, Rhapsody No. 3, by Saint Saens; anthem by Junior and Youth Choirs, "O, Nightingale Awake" by Dickinson; offertory anthem by the Adult Choir, "For Unto Us" by Handel; anthem by combined choirs, "The Citizens of Chateaux" by Daltrey; organ postlude "Noel I" by d'Aquin.

Rev. John Arthur Samuelson will preach the Christmas sermon, "Star in the Night."

In the afternoon at 4:30, the Christmas Pageant — "The Star" — will be presented in the sanctuary. This portrayal of the Christmas story, with music and in colorful costume, will be enacted by the young people of the church under the direction of Mr. Hastings, and assisted by Mrs. Arthur Fultz and Miss Dorothy Stanley. At the conclusion of the pageant, the children of the Church School will come forward with their "White Gifts" and lay them before the manger.

At 7 p.m. the young people of the Church will go about throughout the Highlands to sing Christmas Carols to the shut-ins. And at 11 o'clock the customary Christmas Eve Communion Service will close the day.

on television the arrival of the Presidential party when Santos telephoned Christmas greetings to his family. Jose's cousin, Maria Malagon, also 16, had been chosen to present a bouquet of flowers to Mrs. Kennedy as she stepped from the Presidential plane, and the Santos family was watching TV to see their niece. Jose could hear the TV clearly during the telephone call.

Jose, son of a Bogota architect, has been in this country since May and since then has become like one of the family at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph E. Nolan of 13 Cloelia Terrace, Newtonville. He came here through a special program sponsored by Msgr. Walter J. Furlong, pastor of Our Lady's Church.

Mr. Nolan, a civil engineer, became host to young Santos at the request of Msgr. Furlong. Mrs. Nolan described Jose as "one of the finest youngsters I have ever met. He is certainly a credit to his parents." The nuns describe the young freshman as a bright student.

Safety For All Yule Shoppers

Don't let that last-minute Christmas shopping kill you! With the rushing pace of Christmas shoppers and drivers, everyone, whether pedestrian or motorist, must be especially careful and alert.

Slow down before you step off that curb, or drive around that corner. Make sure everybody will have a chance for the happy holidays they and you deserve. That extra caution and minute may mean a life—even your own.

Birth of Jesus Background For Sunday Service

The birth of Christ Jesus, and other highlights from his history as recorded in the four Gospels, will form the background of the Lesson-Sermon at Christian Science church services Sunday.

Keynoting the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Christ Jesus" is the Golden Text from John (12): "I am come a light into the world, that whosoever believeth on me should not abide in darkness."

Scriptural readings include this passage regarding the wise men (Matt. 2): "When they saw the star, they rejoiced with exceeding great joy. And when they were come into the house, they saw the young child with Mary his mother, and fell down, and worshipped him: and when they had opened their treasures, they presented unto him gifts; gold, and frankincense, and myrrh."

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy this citation will be read (p. 95): "Led by a solitary star amid the darkness, the Magi of old foretold the Messiahship of Truth. Is the wise man of today believed, when he beholds the light which heralds Christ's eternal dawn and describes its effulgence?"

Can your child afford not to have a college education?

Advanced education does not miraculously confer health, wealth and wisdom. But it helps—as millions have learned.

U. S. Census statistics show the cost of college is returned many times over in extra earnings in later years. And this takes no account of the extra satisfactions college education can give.

One way to assure your children have the education best suited to their abilities is Metropolitan's Education-Estate Builder Plan.

Planning for your children is not a thing to put off. It is never too soon to prepare for the costs of college. And the younger the child, the lower the premium.

Even if, when the policy matures, the money is not needed for education, each $1000 of the plan can be converted to $5000 of Limited Payment Life Insurance—a ready-made estate for your child.

That is why you should call your Metropolitan Representative now. Get the facts now. Give yourself as much time as possible to plan and prepare. It is your Metropolitan Man's duty to serve you and your family. Let him show you.

FIRST HOLY CHRISTMAS—The reverent mysticism of the first Holy Christmas in the shabby stable in Bethlehem is caught in this beautiful study of the shepherds and visiting kings paying honor to the Christ Child in a touching scene from the Biblical drama, "King of Kings."

Reverent, Happy Christmas Will Mark Observance Here

Age-Old Traditions To Prevail During Festive Yuletide Season

Christmas, 1961, will see one of the most gladsome and joyous Yuletide celebrations this community has known.

The warm glow of the colored lights in windows and the soft strains of the age-old carols echoing across the winter night herald the approach of the Birthday of the Babe Who was born in a drafty stable behind a crowded inn in the little town of Bethlehem 1961 years ago.

Most of all the Holiday of Holidays—the day the angels sing—will be marked by the gladness that dwells in the hearts of men for the joy, the hope and the promise which the Prince of Peace brought to earth.

Revered traditions which have come down through the sweep of the years—traditions which never grow old—are being followed again this festive and happy Yuletide season.

Christmas, 1961, will be different in many ways than it was in the "old days." Yet, in some respects it will be much the same. It is the oldest of Christian holidays. But it is always the newest, always the finest.

No bells will jingle on horse-drawn sleighs moving over snow-covered streets. Candles in windows will not be fashioned of honest tallow. Colored lights gleaming from their tapered tips will be provided by electricity—not by naked flame.

But the spirit, the meaning, the feeling, the gladness of Christmas will be the same as they have been back through the centuries.

This community has taken on the most brilliant and colorful Yuletide garb in all its history for the celebration of the 1961st birthday of the Christ Child.

Colored candles glowing from windows and spectacular outdoor lighting displays have turned streets into scenes of Christmas beauty and splendor.

New Towing Law Voted By Aldermen

The Newton Board of Aldermen, by a vote of 21 to 1, adopted at its Monday night meeting to accept enabling legislation to permit police towing of cars parked in "Tow-away Zone" as well as autos parked so as to obstruct snow removal.

The new ordinance becomes effective when signed by Mayor Donald L. Gibbs, and police will be empowered to order cars towed away after the "Tow-away" signs are erected.

It provides that the owner of a towed car would be liable to a fee of not more than $8 for towing charge, $1.50 for garage storage for any 24 hour period, and not more than $1 for any period under 24 hours.

Dedicated Women End Long Hospital Service

Two dedicated women whose service at Newton-Wellesley Hospital comprises almost three-quarters of a century ended their outstanding careers with the hospital over the weekend.

Miss Grace M. Russell of 200 Church street, Newton, and Mrs. Mabel H. Hobbs of 3 Maple Road, Weston, retired during the 75th year in which the community hospital has served Newton and the western suburbs.

Both began their careers in 1917 when they enrolled together in the hospital's School of Nursing. Both were nurses in the hospital for awhile following graduation in 1920.

Mrs. Hobbs set aside her duties as a housewife to return to the hospital at the opening of World War II. Training Red Cross Junior Aides at first, in 1943 was named director of Volunteer Services for the hospital, a post she has held since that time. Postal Employees Praised

Speedy Processing Here Of Yule Mail Avalanche

Officials and employees in Newton's 10 postoffices are nearing the end of a tremendous job which has been performed with remarkable efficiency.

Focal point in the back-breaking task of handling the city's mail and packages is the Newtonville office which serves as the distribution center of incoming mail for the 10 Newtonville postoffices.

When the last grey sack is emptied Saturday night and the clerks and letter-carriers sit back to relax, the workers at the Newtonville post office under the direction of Superintendent Timothy J. O'Neill will have handled more than 6,000,000 pieces of incoming and outgoing mail THIS WEEK ALONE.

In addition between 60,000 and 70,000 packages will have been delivered to Newton homes and business places from the Newtonville post-office which handles all parcel post and special deliveries in the city.

Crews of college boys and girls, who were required to study postal plans and techniques before assuming their temporary jobs, have assisted the regular postoffice forces during the record-breaking Christmas rush.

Superintendent O'Neill, who has kept the wheels turning smoothly at the key Newtonville postoffice, declared last night that every Christmas card and every package will be delivered before his employees. — MAIL AVALANCHE — (Continued on Page 8)

Ageless Story of Christmas Told and Retold This Week

An ageless story that never grows old will be told and retold this week of the Babe Who was born in Bethlehem and of conquerors and rulers who tried to silence His simple truths.

It is a story that has a rightful place in a political column in Christmas week, for in a cold and drafty stable in a little town among the hills was born One Who came to speak to the multitudes about justice and freedom and fundamental rights.

The kings and captains marched up and down the land in full panoply, and the heavens opened up with song that was for Him—not for them.

His words have come down through the centuries, revered and honored. Theirs are forgotten.

Not the least of the wonders we commemorate this week with prayers and hymns, with twinkling lights and gladness in our hearts, is the simplicity which surrounded the coming of the Saviour.

20 Years Ago Today!

Amid the soft strains of the carols and the warm glow of the colored lights the wartime of yesteryear seems far in the past.

But just 20 years ago today there was little meaning to the words, "On earth peace to men of goodwill."

Christmas, 1941, came just 18 days after the surprise Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor on a quiet December Sunday.

Twenty years ago today, the people of this community went about their Yuletide preparations somberly, still stunned and shocked by the events which had plunged us into war.

Grim news despatches told of Japanese bombs raining down upon the open city of Manila as MacArthur's men retreated toward Bataan.

A sizeable segment of our navy lay crippled or mortally wounded at Pearl Harbor where workmen labored around the clock to repair the damage that had been done.

Young men went off to war, and there were empty seats at the tables in many homes on Christmas Day.

Heavy-hearted men and women tried to make that 1941 Yuletide as happy as possible for children too young to understand the meaning of the black shadow of war.

The memory of those grim days of twenty years ago makes this Christmas—even in a time of a cold war and uneasy peace—all the more joyous and glad some.

Political Highlights

A carpenter named Joseph went with his young wife, Mary, up from Nazareth to Bethlehem, the town of his fathers, to enroll for taxation, as the Roman rulers had decreed should be done.

Bethlehem was a small hill town of no particular consequence 1961 years ago.

Joseph and Mary arrived in the village late and tired to find there was no room for them in its only inn.

With other humble travelers they took shelter in the stable, and there in the manger the Christ Child was born.

That was the simple beginning. Add the shepherds on the night hills, the appearance of the angel, their journey to the stable, and it still remains one of the least adorned of all the great stories we cherish.

It is a story as simple as was Christ Himself and His teachings, as simple as His Sermon on the Mount, a masterpiece of simplicity, which stands as the ultimate basis of Christian belief and the beliefs of free men of goodwill everywhere.

He spoke in a simple tongue, in terms of the beasts of the forest, the birds of the air and the lilies of the fields, of man's responsibility to man.

His simple words, which the kings and the conquerors seemed momentarily to silence, still live on; theirs have perished and are forgotten.

The event we commemorate 1961 years later is the Birth in the humble stable; not the gathering in the crowded inn where Mary and Joseph could find no room.

Christmas Quiet Prevails Before Big Political Year

This is a period of calm and quiet just before action and excitement flare up all along the political front. Battles between powerful and prominent public figures for places on both the Democratic and Republican State tickets will break out into the open shortly after the start of the New Year.

Veteran Congressman John W. McCormack will be elected Speaker of the national House of Representatives to succeed the late, beloved Sam Rayburn when Baby 1962 is only a little more than a week old, giving Massachusetts another political giant on the national scene.

Members of the State Legislature will reconvene to begin a session which will be marked by a series of fights over issues of great public consequence.

Governor Volpe will resume some of the battles he fought and lost on Beacon Hill during 1961.

One of the history-making events of the coming year at the State House will be the attempt by Volpe to remove Boston Police Commissioner Leo J. Sullivan.

In Washington a congressional committee will conduct hearings on the State Public Works Department's land-taking scandal.

More indictments can be expected early in 1962 in the investigation by Attorney General Edward J. McCormack, Jr., into the operations of the State Waterways Division.

The probe by District Attorney Garrett H. Byrne triggered by the TV "bookie" film undoubtedly will reach a climax.

A head-on clash between Republican Governor Volpe and the Democratic Legislature over the division of the State into 12 new congressional districts appears inevitable. If it ends in an impasse, there will be no districts, and all 12 Congressmen would be elected from the entire State.

There will be maneuvers for political advantage and struggles for political position.

In an election year both the Democrats and Republicans will play politics to the hilt.

Those are some of the developments and happenings which may be expected in the world of politics during the early stages of 1962.

Attorney General Edward J. McCormack, Jr., will formally announce himself a candidate for the Democratic nomination for U.S. Senate before many weeks have been crossed off the new calendars. McCormack's lieutenants have been lining up delegates for him for the past several weeks.

This would set the stage for a fight between members of the State's two most prominent Democratic families if Edward M. (Ted) Kennedy, 29-year-old brother of the President, desires to seek the same nomination.

A measure of uncertainty still exists as to the political direction in which Ted will move and the office on which he will set his sights. It will not be cleared up until he makes a public statement as to his plans.

Even though the Democratic senatorial standard-bearer undoubtedly will be either McCormack or Kennedy, a fight is shaping up for the Republican endorsement for the Senate.

Congressman Laurence Curtis, one of the GOP's sturdiest vote-getters, who will be legislated out of office if the proposed Democratic congressional apportionment is enacted into law, will announce himself a candidate for the Senate shortly after the holidays.

The uncertainty as to what will happen to the Democratic apportionment bill both in the Legislature itself and if and when it reaches Volpe's desk, leaves Curtis little choice but to begin his run for the Senate.

Curtis, who would prefer to remain in Congress where he is serving his fifth term and is a member of the important House Foreign Affairs Committee, is being forced by circumstances to seek political promotion.

George Lodge, son of former UN Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, the GOP nominee for Vice President in 1960, already has tossed his hat into the senatorial ring.

While young Lodge unquestionably would benefit from the popularity of his father, he would be at some disadvantage in a convention fight with Curtis since he has never held elective office while Curtis has gone up the political ladder rung by rung.

If Attorney General McCormack were standing for reelection, there would be no rush of Republican candidates to challenge him. Since he is stepping out to run for the Senate, fights for the nomination for Attorney General are shaping up on both sides of the political fence.

The GOP has a real battle underway between former U.S. Attorney Elliot L. Richardson and Boston Finance Commission Chairman Edward W. Brooke.

Two State Senators — Richard Caples of Brighton and Mario Umama of East Boston — are among the prospective Democratic contenders for Attorney General.

A three-man scramble now looms for the Democratic gubernatorial endorsement and the right to stand against Governor Volpe next November.

At the moment the prospective candidates are Lieutenant Governor Edward F. McLaughlin, Jr., Registrar of Motor Vehicles Clement A. Riley and former Governor's Councilor Endicott (Chub) Peabody.

That fight could and probably will be expanded before the delegates are called to order at next June's Democratic State Convention.

One virtually certain contender if no congressional redistricting law is enacted is Congressman Torbert H. MacDonald of Malden.

Attempts have been and are being made to persuade Boston Mayor John F. Collins and former Hub Mayor John B. Hynes to run for state-wide office. So far neither Collins nor Hynes has shown any disposition to do so.

One of the strangest election campaigns the State has witnessed will develop if all the candidates for Congress are forced to engage in one state-wide battle.

A big difference between the Democratic and Republican candidates is that the GOP office-seekers will abide by the mandates of their State convention while most Democratic aspirants will regard their party's conclave as only a preliminary skirmish.

A Republican who was defeated for endorsement at the State Convention and then went on to run in the primary would be virtually reading himself out of his party.

While a convention defeat lessens the chances of a Democratic candidate in the subsequent primary it is not necessarily fatal to him.

To what extent, if any, Governor Volpe will try to pick the members of the Republican State ticket is uncertain.

Usually a Governor has a good deal to say about the selection of his running mates.

In 1960 Volpe left the choice of the GOP nominees entirely to the delegates. It was a free and open convention. But Volpe then was a candidate, not a Governor.

Volpe probably would be reluctant to mix into a fight between Curtis and Lodge because of the animosity he would stir up toward himself by doing so. But it is quite possible that he will indicate a preference among the other candidates seeking places on the Republican State ticket.

To some degree Volpe will be putting himself on the spot if he signs into law a congressional redistricting bill which legislates Curtis out of office. In such an event he would be almost morally bound to support Curtis for the Senate nomination.

The guessing of most political observers is that Volpe has no intention of signing the so-called Democratic Gerymmander and that the only reason he hasn't said so publicly is that he believes the bill might never get out of the Legislature and onto his desk.

The battle over the redistricting bill in the House promises to be one of the more uproarious events of the year on Beacon Hill. And some Democrats will join the Republican leaders in blasting the measure. The Democrats could steamroller the Republican opposition. But they will have trouble getting their suit of the opposition of some steamroller moving as a re- of their own party members.

In addition, the Special Committee recommended that the Board of Aldermen consider the appointment of an Assistant City Clerk, a post which was vacated some time ago.

The Special Committee consisted of Aldermen Carleton P. Merrill, chairman; Adelaide B. Ball, Winslow C. Auryansen, Charles H. Cosgrove and Franklin N. Flaschner.

It recommended that if such an Election Commission is established, the Commission would have a principal clerk, that one commissioner be part time, three days per week, and that other members of such a commission would be members of the Board of Registrars of Voters.

The recommendation specified: "The board shall consist of four persons, of whom two shall always represent each one of the two leading political parties."

The special Aldermanic Committee explained in its report that if an Election Commission were established

"the citizens of Newton would experience an improvement in the training of election officers and workers, that the overload of work within the City Clerk's department would be reduced and that more attention could be given to the various functions that fall within the vital area of registrations and conduct of elections."

The committee's recommendation added:

"We would point out that regardless of the system under which we conduct our elections that the length of time required in counting votes will not be noticeably changed as this will only be improved upon at such time as the City of Newton uses voting machines, a matter which this committee did not have the responsibility of determining."

Tigers Top GBI Hockey League Race

Newton High's icemen were perched atop the GBI league with two wins and no ties or losses following the 1 to 0 shutout of Brookline High in second-round action at Boston Arena Saturday afternoon.

In other action, Medford upset favored Arlington 3-2; Somerville topped Rindge Tech by the same score and Waltham played Cambridge to a scoreless tie. The loss by Arlington, seeking its fourth straight league crown, was only the fourth in 44 games over a four year period.

The standout play in the Newton-Brookline game for the Tigers was Terry MacLaughlin's 25-footer, which lit the lamp at 1:48 of the first period. Assists went to Charlie Scammon and Co-Capt. Mike Ryan.

It was a close forechecking game which saw 11 penalties meted out, seven going against Brookline. Their goalie Phil Speros had 14 stops, eight in the first period. Newton goalie Don Mason had eight saves, including a 40-footer by Bob Collins just 40 seconds before the final gong.

WHAT is there about Christmas which gets into the hearts of men? For a few weeks every year, drabness seems to disappear. There is music in the streets and the world seems to light up with a warmth that is truly wondrous.

Perhaps it is because, for just a short time, man is given a glimpse of his true destiny . . . happiness and peace of soul.

May this Hope of the world bring you great joy and comfort during this Christmas season.

Route 128 Is Listed As Bad Holiday Risk

Tabbing the section of Massachusetts Route 128 between Lynnfield and the junction of Route 9 "the most dangerous 27 miles in America," the Automobile Legal Association today warned motorists to avoid that stretch of road "at all costs" during the hours of darkness . . . particularly during the coming holiday season.

ALA safety director, Philip C. Wallwork, issued the warning after a nighttime inspection trip along the road.

"The lack of white line markers, the transfers from one lane to another, soft shoulders and heavy equipment along the roadside, plus poor, or in most cases total lack of, lighting make this section the worst I have ever experienced," Wallwork said.

"Because lighting is practically non-existent, most drivers are forced to drive the entire stretch with their high-beam lights on. Add to this huge trailer trucks which are lit up like Christmas trees and we have a situation which could kill a hundred people by the first day of 1962.

"Unfortunately, little can be done about most of these conditions because of the heavy construction work in progress and drivers should select alternate routes regardless of time involved.

New Cleaning Establishment Now in Business

Mayor Donald L. Gibbs and Alderman John P. Nixon participated in ribbon cutting ceremonies at the recent opening of the new Twinette, Coin-a-Matic Dry Cleaning establishment owned and operated at 329 Walnut street, Newtonville, by Walter Everett.

Newton housewives who have enjoyed the facilities at the new establishment expressed pleasure at the savings involved as well as the speed of operation, from eight to ten pounds of clothing in thirty-six minutes.

The Twinette establishment is efficient, inexpensive and does the job well for savings as high as 50 to 75 percent.

Housewives also have discovered that because of the type of fluids used in the Standard Coin-a-Matic dry cleaning units, they can safely run a mixed load of clothing because colors will not run.

Walter Everett pointed out that the self-service, coin-operated dry cleaning business is the newest business now gregational Church of Needham. More than 400 participants representing 40 churches are expected to attend.

Holiday Hazard On The Highway

The holiday season, almost upon us, means a hazardous time for automobile drivers. With the extra crowded and congested streets and highways at Christmastime and at New Year's, watch your driving habits.

With the cup that cheers much in evidence at this time, it is advisable for all of us to be tolerant, watchful, and temperate to make the season a happy one for one and all.

Advertisements Of Newton Bank Receive Award

The Newton Savings Bank has received a Socrates Award for the outstanding quality of its newspaper advertising in 1961 according to Benjamin F. Louis, vice president and treasurer of the bank. The award, presented to Mr. Louis by Bank Ad-Views, reads "Awarded for consistent excellence in newspaper advertising during the past twelve months, in competition with several hundred other companies in your line of business."

Bank Ad-Views, a nationally known advertising publication, has been conducting the competition for 44 years, evaluating bank newspaper advertising throughout the United States and Canada each month and awarding points on a cumulative basis to outstanding ads. Points are awarded for the effectiveness of an idea in selling the bank's services, copy, layout and illustration technique, and general effect on the bank's relations with the public.

Mr. Louis, in commenting on the award, states, "While our advertising is prepared with the primary objective of winning new friends and business for the bank, we are indeed gratified that it has also won this recognition, especially in view of the scope of the competition and the quality of the competing banks' advertising."

The prize-winning advertisements which appeared in The Newton Graphic have been prepared under the direction of William H. Carney, Jr., vice president of Dean C. Wolf and Associates, Boston financial advertising specialists, who have been the Newton Savings Bank's advertising agency since 1948.

Nixon Proposes Sewer Use Tax

Alderman John P. Nixon has urged the Newton Board of Aldermen to study the imposition of a sewer tax such as was adopted recently by the City of Boston. Boston has set a $12 minimum sewer use charge.

Mr. Nixon said his proposal would aid in payment of installations for the new multi-unit apartment houses planned for Newton.

Yule Dance Will Aid Cystic Fibrosis and Gardner Funds

The Trojan Club, comprising Newton and Brookline boys of high school age, will conduct its annual benefit dance at the Sheraton-Plaza Hotel next Saturday evening, December 23, with approximately 400 couples expected to attend. Proceeds from the dance will be given to the Massachusetts Cystic Fibrosis Research Foundation and to the Herbert J. Gardner Memorial Fund, which supports an orphaned Korean child.

Herbert J. Gardner, a member of the Trojan Club in his high school days, was killed in World War II while serving as a bombardier in the U. S. Air Force. His boyhood friends began a charity in his memory in 1946.

Thirty-nine Brookline and Newton boys belong to the Trojans, a fraternal organization which devotes much of its time to working for charitable organizations. Cystic fibrosis, a serious chronic disease, was adopted by the organization three years ago and since that time the Trojans have given several thousand dollars to medical research. They also donate money to the Herbert J. Gardner Fund, an organization of ex-Trojans who have continued charitable work.

President of the Trojans this year is William Rose of Chestnut Hill. His officers are Steven Grossman, vice-president, of Brookline; Donald Kaplan, secretary, of Newton; Robert Bernheimer of Newton, Treasurer; and George Kaplan of Newton, Corresponding Secretary.

Particular care should be given trees in churches and schools. Trees should not be set up close to stairways because in case of fire the stairway is an exit from upper floors would be blocked.

Fire Chief Frederick A. Perkins Jr., issued the following suggestions to make Christmas a safe holiday:

(1) When you choose your Christmas tree this year, select one which appears freshly cut. Feel the needles to make sure they are firmly attached.

(2) Keep the tree out of doors until just before Christmas. And keep it standing in a pail of water so that it will remain fresh.

(3) When you put the tree up, place it in the coolest part of the room. It should be as far as possible from radiators, heaters and as far away as possible from the fireplace. This will reduce the chances of fire, and keep the tree from drying.

(4) Use a tree stand which has a water container in which the trunk can rest. Most trees "drink" water fairly fast, so fill the water container daily.

(5) Christmas tree decorations should be flameproof. Use only decorations made of glass, metal or fire-resistant material.

(6) Electric trains should be set up away from the tree. A spark from the train could ignite dry pine needles.

(7) Use only electric lights to decorate the tree — never candles. Be sure to check lighting sets before placing them on the tree. Those with frayed wires should be discarded. When you buy a new set look for the UL tag or label of Underwriters' Laboratories, Inc.

(8) When you open presents on Christmas morning, put away gift wrappings you intend to keep. Gather up other wrappings and throw them away immediately after use.

(9) The lights on Christmas trees should be turned off when everyone is away from home.

(10) Check the tree for dryness from time to time. If needles near lights have started to turn brown, change the position of the lights.

(11) When the needles start falling, take the tree down immediately and discard it outdoors.

(12) Even if the tree is still fresh, plan now to dismantle it the day after New Year's.

(13) Make sure your decorative lighting does not overload electrical circuits.

(14) Wiring and electrical equipment used out-of-doors should be designed for the purpose.

Finn is vice-president of the E. B. Horn Company, Boston. He will organize and direct participation of the Greater Boston wholesale and retail jewelers in the annual Heart Fund campaign in February.

Headlights and Highlights From Newton High School

The three weeks before vacation have been very busy for many of the students, teachers, and parents of Newton High School. Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas spoke at the Parent-Teacher-Student Association on "American Foreign Policy and American Youth," Monday, Dec. 18 in the Newton High School Auditorium. Justice Douglas stressed the importance of teaching the major languages of the world in high school. Approximately fifty foreign languages are taught in the Russian secondary schools as compared to about six or seven in the United States.

On Sunday, Nov. 17, the NHS Music Club presented the Greater Boston Youth Symphony Orchestra, conducted by Marvin Rabin, and the NHS A Cappella Choir, lead by Miss Geraldine Seaver. Along with the orchestra, the A Cappella Choir sang Walt Whitman's "Give Me the Splendid Silent Sun" under the direction of guest conductor James Remley.

"Les Emotions Changeantes" was another feature of the concert performed by the orchestra. Elizabeth Little, who graduated Newton High School last year, composed and orchestrated this piece.

William Gordon Allen, Lisa Benson, James Bilezikian, Tina Currens, Judy Dietz, and Gilliam Rogell represented NHS in the Greater Boston Youth Symphony Orchestra.

On Dec. 9, the class of 1962 had its Senior Supper at Newton High School. Two skits were performed by Peter Shaer, David Kallack, Linda Sinoyan, David Klotzle, Debby Farren, Art O'Connell, Debby O'Neill, Sandy Wolfe, David Reed and William Krinsky. The class sang songs, twisted, square danced, and ate the entire evening.

The Newtonite sponsored a Journalism Banquet to which they invited the Denebola staff of NSHS and the journalism classes of both Newton South and Newton High Schools. Dr. Robert Barran, head of Public School Communications at Boston University, was guest speaker.

At the height of yesterday's rush O'Neil paused long enough not only to praise his own workers but to pay tribute to the high degree of cooperation he has received from the superintendents and employees in the other nine Newton post-offices.

"They have all done an outstanding job," O'Neil declared. Superintendent O'Neil also publicly thanked the people of Newton for doing their Christmas mailing early so that his men could keep abreast of the avalanche of Yuletide mail and packages which has descended upon them.

start down the road to a democratic society."

He said:

"We must remember that is a difficult step, for these peoples have lived under totalitarian governments, or and Richard Meehan, principal the swing to the Soviet-type totalitarianism is not as great as the swing to democracy."

"The problem of shifting from the dictatorship of the right to the dictatorship of the left is the problem of the oncoming generation," Justice Douglas declared.

Those on the platform with Justice Douglas and Mr. Carmen were Dr. Charles E. Brown, superintendent of Newton schools; Haskell C. Friedman, chairman of the Newton School Committee and Richard Mechm, principal of Newton High School.

Candlelight Ceremony Unites

Miss Bates - Mr. Zusman

White gladioli decorated the altar of the First Parish Church in Waltham recently for the pretty 7 o'clock candlelight service at which Miss Janice R. Bates became the bride of Irving Zusman of Brookline.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Bates of 46 Oakland avenue, Auburndale. Her bridegroom, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Zusman, is the stepson of Mrs. Bessie Zusman.

The Rev. Cummins married the couple, who received their friends at the Chestnut Hill Country Club.

Given away by her father, the bride wore a gown made of ivory peau de soie. Her fitted bodice of Belgium lace had long sleeves tipped with matching lace.

Her matching lace veil followed the graceful lines of her bouffant skirt. She carried a cascade of snapdragons, forget-me-nots and stephanotis.

Miss Judith Bates of Auburndale was her sister's maid of honor. Miss Eleanor Berger of Natick was her other attendant.

Master Robert A. Arnold of Quincy was ring bearer.

Serving as best man was Arthur Knapp. David Niles of Concord, Davison Welch, Hayden Row, both of Hopkinton, Calvin Bates of Auburndale and Joslyn Berger of Natick were the ushers.

The couple left for Haiti, where they are now honeymooning. They plan to live at 1440 Beacon Street, Brookline.

The bride is an alumna of Carnegie Institute of Medical Technology.

New Britain, Ct., Home For David Sherry and Bride

Now making their home in New Britain, Ct., are Mr. David Kevin Sherry and his bride, the former Miss Dorothy Mary Martin, who exchanged vows recently at the Immaculate Conception Church in Taunton.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Martin of Taunton and Mr. and Mrs. James F. Sherry of 27 Whittier road, Newtonville, are the couple's parents.

The Rev. Thomas Taylor celebrated the 10 o'clock nuptial mass, at which the bride and groom exchanged rings. A reception followed at Eugene's in Middleboro.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride's full length gown of white velvet had an Alencon lace bodice. Her fingertip mantilla was fashioned of Belgium lace. She carried a cascade of Fuji mums centered with baby orchids.

Miss Anne Marie Bradley of Newton was honor maid, while Miss Helen R. Flanagan of Taunton, Miss Rita K. Baker, also of Taunton, and Miss Margaret R. Antonelli of Sherborn were her other attendants.

James F. Sherry Jr., of Newtonville served as best man for his brother, whose ushers were Brian Sherry of Haddonfield, N.J., Edward Hickey of Newtonville and John McGuinness of Bryn Mawr, Pa.

TEMPLE HONORS TEACHERS—Five teachers who were honored last Saturday at annual Teachers Sabbath by Temple Emanuel, for ten years of devoted service, are shown in photo, left to right, Mrs. Norman Rosenberg, Carl Cohen, David Myers, Dr. Leo Tarutz, and Mrs. Leonard Safon. Following the service a Kid-dush was held in their honor sponsored by the Temple Emanuel PTA under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Bloom, presidents.

the holly and tinsel, this celebration of Christmas, 1961. Special Christmas services will be held in churches of all faiths and denominations throughout the community. Midnight masses will be celebrated in the Catholic churches, with thousands of worshippers filing to the altar rails to receive the sacrament of Holy Communion on the anniversary of the day when Christ was born. Christmas rites also will be held in all the Protestant churches. Choirs have been rehearsing for weeks for the special Yuletide musical programs in many churches. Carolers to Sing Of Savior's Birth. Groups of carolers will go through the community on Christmas Eve singing the ancient hymns of the Yuletide. Those who have heard them a thousand times will never stop thrilling to the strains of "Holy Night." Meanwhile, the 11th hour shopping rush is underway, especially by the men folk who each year traditionally observe about this time that they had no realization Christmas was closing in on them so swiftly.

Personnel Club Meets Tonight At Pillar House

An informal meeting for members of the Newton Chamber of Commerce Personnel Managers' Club will be held tonight starting at 6 p.m. at the Pillar House with an "on the house" cocktail party. The "Dutch Treat" dinner starts at 7 o'clock.

Members who attended the previous meeting of the club heard Dr. Jerome Konrich discuss "Ethics in Depth Interviewing," a technical method of appraising qualifications of applicants in a more thorough manner than that previously used.

Dr. Konrich, personnel director of Microwave Association, emphasized that depth interviewing should not be used by the novice and it should be carefully and tactfully conducted. Because of the intensity and the personal nature of many of the questions asked there must be a feeling of propriety on the part of the interviewer so that at all times an atmosphere of high ethical practice is maintained. Confidence in, and understanding of, the purpose of the test are essential for best results.

Continuing, he mentioned that depth interviews of necessity take a considerable time and therefore they should be given only when both the interviewer and the applicant are prepared to spend the time in order to obtain the desired results. Many interesting examples from his vast experience in the field were used as illustrations by Dr. Konrich.

Guests present were Dr. John T. Evans of Newtonville, clinical psychologist, Naval Hospital, and Dr. Charles L. Vaughan of the Business Research Bureau of Boston College.

Most of all it dwells in the hearts of men with the gladness born with the Babe in Bethlehem.

Everywhere the same joyous greeting resounds: "A MERRY CHRISTMAS!"

Parents Are Warned On Ice Skating

Newton parents were warned today by Police Chief Philip Purcell to insist that their children skate only under safe conditions once the ponds freeze sufficiently thick to make the ice safe.

"Parents are urged to play safe," the Chief warned. "They should insist that the children skate only in those areas that have been tested and are supervised by the Recreation Department."

He warned that a sudden cold snap will freeze the surfaces of the ponds but will not provide an adequate cover of ice for skating.

For Renewing
Registration

Time is rapidly running out on those tardy automobile owners who have neglected to secure their 1962 car registration and windshield sticker.

1961 registration plates
will be used again next year but the little windshield sticker will validate the use of the plates.

Registry officials point out that a definite lag exists in applications for registration renewals, which indicates a mad last minute rush. Motorists are advised to avoid this rush; get that registration and sticker now.

Simple Exercises To Launch Second Term of Mayor Gibbs

12 Hurt In Auto Crashes And Fires

Newton residents were fortunate to observe the long Christmas holiday weekend without a tragic death but a dozen persons were injured either from skidding highway accidents or minor fires.

Those injured in highway accidents included two city employees on a snow plow which was in collision with a car at Washington street, and Woodland road, Auburndale, on Sunday morning.

Donato Colini of 51 Green street, driver of the city truck, and Cesllo DeRubei of 14 Lincoln street, Newton, a passenger, both suffered hand injuries in the crash. The operator of the car was a Watertown resident.

Three members of a Wellesley family were injured in a truck-auto crash at Boylston and Eliot streets, Newton Highlands. Treated at Newton-Wellesley Hospital were William H. Unsworth, 32, of 44 Beverly road, Wellesley, his wife, Marion, and their son, Thomas.

Inaugural Ceremonies At City Hall New Year's Day

Mayor Donald L. Gibbs will be sworn in to begin his second term as Newton's chief municipal executive at stately but simple inaugural ceremonies in the Aldermanic Chamber at City Hall on New Year's Day. The program will begin at 3 p.m.

Supreme Court Justice John V. Spalding of Newton Highlands will administer the oath of office to Mayor Gibbs, as he did two years ago when Gibbs began his service as Mayor.

In his inaugural address Mayor Gibbs is expected to review his accomplishments during his first term in office and to outline his plans for the second term he is about to start.

Monday's inaugural program will start when the members of the Board of Aldermen file into their chamber and appoint a committee to escort Mayor Gibbs to the large, high-ceilinged room where the exercises are to be held.

On the arrival of Gibbs, the Rev. Ray A. Eusden, minister-emeritus of the Eliot Congregational Church and a long-time friend of the Mayor, will open the inaugural rites with a prayer.

Justice Spalding then will swear in Mayor Gibbs, and Gibbs, in turn, will administer the oath of office to members of the Aldermanic Board and the School Committee.

After his inaugural address, which is expected to last between 20 and 30 minutes, Gibbs will be escorted back to the Mayor's office where he will hold a reception.

Members of the Aldermanic and School Boards will hold brief organization meetings to elect their presiding officers for the coming year.

It is anticipated that Haskell C. Freedman will be re-elected chairman of the School Committee and that Wendell R. Bauckman will be elected to another term as president of the Board of Aldermen.

Blue Laws Will Restrict Business Because the Sunday Blue Laws will be in force on New Year's the Aldermen and School Committee members will only transact business which does not permit of delay. The Aldermen will hold

Breaks, Thefts Plague Newton Yule Weekend

A rash of breaks and thefts plagued Newtonites over the long Christmas weekend.

Most successful were burglars who broke into the Sidney Hills Country Club and made off with tools and food valued at $1250. An undetermined amount of loot was gained by thieves who ransacked the apartment of Marcel Durot at 23 Fredana road, West Newton, while a $100 vase was stolen from the front hall of Frank Cohen at 2 Hammond Pond parkway, Chestnut Hill.

A pocketbook containing $70 was stolen from Susan Crosby of South Boston, while she was a guest at the Chestnut Hill Country Club and $135 was taken from a bureau drawer in the home of Claire Roche at 60 Chestnut street, West Newton.

Automobiles belonging to Paul F. O'Donnell of 135 River street, West Newton, and Hyman Waldman of 230 Homer street, Newton Centre, were the objects of thieves who took a file case from O'Donnell's car and a set of hubcaps from Waldman's. A truck battery was stolen from a Newton city

Mayor Critical Of Snow Plowing Here

Mayor Donald L. Gibbs expressed strong dissatisfaction yesterday with the plowing job done on Newton residential streets during and after the second storm on Christmas Eve.

The Mayor's sentiments were echoed by Street Commissioner Frank K. Perkins and by hundreds of Newtonites who were unable to drive out of their snow-clogged streets on Christmas Day.

Gibbs declared bluntly that he was satisfied with the job done on the storm which hit Newton late Saturday night and during the day Sunday.

But he was extremely critical of the plowing of residential side streets in the second follow-up storm.

The Mayor announced that he intends to confer with both Street Commissioner Perkins and Police Commissioner Philip Purcell to make certain that a better and speedier job is done in the future.

The purpose of his meeting with Purcell, Gibbs said, is to see that improved arrangements are made by police for towing away automobiles which block or hamper plowing operations.

Street Commissioner Perkins asserted frankly that it was simply a case of "too little too late" in the second storm which struck Sunday night.

He said he was unable to obtain either the men or the equipment to do a proper and prompt plowing job.

Early News, Ad Copy Requested For Next Issue

Early news and advertising copy for next week's issue of this newspaper is requested for processing over the weekend. Staff personnel will be working on Saturday to handle any copy received.

Bob Malone Will Resign As NHS Football Coach

Bob Malone will resign as head football coach at Newton High School, The Graphic learned today.

A former football coach at a high school which Newton plays each year may be offered the post as Malone's successor.

The man under consideration gave up coaching a few years ago and is now working as a teacher.

Whether he is interested in returning to a coaching position is uncertain. He was considered a successful coach with a good record.

Malone will continue as a biology teacher at Newton High School and also will coach the sophomore football team starting next fall.

During the three years Malone has been head coach at Newton High the Tigers have won five games, lost 20 and tied one.

Some sports observers believe, however, that the decline in Newton High's football fortunes during the past two years resulted primarily from the opening of Newton South High, and the division of talented football players between two schools instead of being concentrated at one as was the case prior to 1960.

Congress Redistrict Move Destined To End In Muddle

Attempts to divide Massachusetts into 12 new congressional districts now seem destined to end in an incredible muddle.

It would be one of the startling surprises of 1962 if Republican Governor Volpe and the Democratic Legislature were able to agree on a congressional redistricting plan.

Up to the present time the Democratic law-makers haven't been able to agree among themselves, much less produce a proposal which would be acceptable to Volpe.

A widely publicized plan recommended by a special legislative redistricting committee, which has been the subject of bitter controversy, is headed for the political scrap heap.

The suggested 12 new congressional districts probably will be drastically changed by the joint legislative — HIGHLIGHTS — (Continued on Page 4)

Children Taught Love Of God Is Sermon's Subject

How children can be early taught to understand and love God will be brought out at Christian Science services Sunday.

The welcome given children by Christ Jesus, described in the Gospel of Luke (18), is among the Scriptural selections to be read in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "God": "And they brought unto him also infants, that he would touch them: but when his disciples saw it, they rebuked them. But Jesus called them unto him, and said, Suffer little children to come unto me, and forbid them not: for of such is the kingdom of God."

One of the correlative citations to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy states: "Jesus loved little children because of their freedom from wrong and their receptiveness of right. While age is halting between two opinions or battling with false beliefs, youth makes easy and rapid strides towards Truth" (p. 236).

Two New Plans to Help You Meet Medical Expenses!

One out of every eight Americans will go to the hospital this year. The high costs of hospitalization and surgical fees can be ruinous to the average family budget. To help you meet these costs, Metropolitan has introduced two new policies for both individuals and families.

One, for people 55 and under, is the "Paid Up at 65" Plan. This important new plan not only provides coverage during your working period, but also introduces modified coverage after age 65, and continuing for life, without further payment of premiums.

For older folks, there is also a new Metropolitan Policy which can be purchased up to age 75 and continued throughout life. This new plan will help ease the burden of medical expenses for people of all ages who prefer a lower premium plan.

Both of these new plans are guaranteed renewable. However, the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company may adjust the premiums on such policies as a class.

Call or write today for the details of these two new Metropolitan Plans.

He was removed from his bedroom by Patrolmen James V. Cox and Joseph A. Arnold and rushed to Newton-Wellesley Hospital. Officer Arnold was treated at the hospital for smoke inhalation.

Police were called by the youth's mother, Mrs. Charles Hardigan.

Mrs. Gail Morgan, 22, of 88 Atwood road, Newtonville, was treated at the hospital for burns on the hand suffered when a cigarette lighter burst into flames, apparently from an overflow of fluid.

The caretaker of a Newton Centre estate, Michael Ryan, 30, of 191 Dudley road, was blown through a door by the force of a gasoline explosion, was uninjured, and raced back into the burning building to rescue his 17-months-old son, Paul.

Mr. Ryan told police he was draining gasoline from a snow-plow tractor when the explosion threw him through a door of the coachman's house, which was used as a garage and living quarters for the caretaker.

The flames destroyed the tractor, an expensive sports car and caused an estimated total damage of $10,000.

Lift Ban On Bus Rides For Boy Students

Boys who ride the Waverly avenue bus line to Newton High School received a Christmas gift from the Middlesex & Boston St. Ry. Co., in the form of a promise of rides after the holiday vacation.

Only girls were allowed to board the school buses for one week prior to the Christmas vacation because of alleged acts of vandalism.

The ban was lifted following a meeting in the office of Mayor Donald L. Gibbs, attended by Dr. Charles E. Brown, superintendent of Schools and officials of the bus line.

Second Termof the School Committee in 1962 will be a week from Monday, Jan. 8.

Three new members of the Board of Aldermen — all Ward Aldermen — will receive the oath of office from Mayor Gibbs New Year's afternoon. They are Allard M. Valentine of Ward 4, Ernest F. Dietz of Ward 6 and William Carmen of Ward 7.

As Mayor Gibbs nears the close of his first term at City Hall, he can point to a number of notable accomplishments.

One of his outstanding achievements was in reducing the city's gross debt slightly more than $2 million, lowering it from the $20,273,000 figure at which it stood when he assumed office to its present level of $18,200,000.

Earlier this year, he applied for $100,000 in federal funds to finance the preparation of a plan for an urban renewal and redevelopment project.

The Mayor also has started plans for an elderly housing project which probably will become a reality during 1962.

He launched a three-year program this year for replacing obsolete and worn-out snow-fighting equipment and for both improving and enlarging the city's fleet of snow plows.

An engineer has been engaged to draft plans for a new incinerator in the city. Increased Plowing Program Started

An increased program for plowing sidewalks and improved rubbish collections were put into effect by Mayor Gibbs.

The first step of a new compensation plan for city employees was adopted this year, and it is expected the Mayor will recommend the adoption of a second step next year.

Under Mayor Gibbs, Newton's tax rate has risen $7.80, climbing from $55 in 1959 to $62.80 this year, largely as a result of higher school costs.

Another tax rate jump in 1962 appears inevitable because of an increase of about declared that the upward wage adjustments are necessary "in order to maintain a competitive position in employing teachers and to give incentive to those people who provide needed continuity and experience on our staff."

Under the terms of the vote passed last night the yearly increments in the school salary schedule are increased from $250 to $275 at the fourth step and to $300 at the eighth step. This also resulted "in changes of either $400 or $450 at the several maxima," it was stated.

The remaining portion of the budget increase is due to miscellaneous items in the various non-salary accounts, school officials explained.

committee on election laws to which the bill will be submitted.

If the bill were allowed to stand in its present form, it would face certain defeat in the Democratic-controlled Senate where a majority of the Solons, including a half-dozen Democrats, have indicated their opposition to the measure.

Whether the committee can work out any plan which will be approved by the Senate is uncertain.

But it is reasonably safe to prophesy that any redistricting scheme acceptable to 21 Democratic Senators would be unacceptable to Volpe and would be vetoed by him.

That is apparent from the conflicting attitudes of Republican leaders and Democratic legislators toward the plan drafted by the redistricting committee.

The situation is assuming some of the aspects of a political musical comedy.

GOP spokesmen have been assailing the so-called "official" redistricting proposal as grossly unfair and a barefaced Gerrymander which might result in the election of 11 Democrats and one lone Republican.

Several Democratic Senators, on the other hand, are against the plan because Democratic Congressman Thomas J. Lane of Lawrence and Philip J. Philbin of Clinton are dissatisfied with it.

Lane and Philbin desire their districts kept substantially as they now are.

Top Democratic leaders declare privately that it would be difficult, if not impossible, to do what Lane and Philbin want and at the same time create 12 congressional districts out of the present 14.

Regardless of the merits of the complaints advanced by Lane and Philbin, the fact remains that they have enough votes in the Senate so they can block adoption of the redistricting bill by whispering to their allies to line up with the Republicans.

A paradoxical sidelight to the dispute is that both Democratic Congressman Lane and Republican Congressman William H. Bates of Salem both are opposed to the scheme which would throw them together in the same district.

Lane obviously does not relish the prospect of a head-on election battle with Bates, and Bates, in turn, is unenthusiastic about a possible test of strength with Lane.

Any effort by the Democrats to make the plan more satisfactory for Lane and Philbin will obviously make it less palatable for the Republicans, and it already is pretty indigestible from the GOP standpoint.

Meanwhile, the Congressman who has the greatest cause for indignation over the proposed Democratic Gerrymander — Laurence Curtis — has blasted the plan and publicly urged Governor Volpe to veto it if it is passed by the Legislature in its present form and sent to him.

There is little doubt but that Volpe would do exactly that, but there is a great deal of question that it will ever get

McCormack deftly guided the legal procedure step by step, counselling members of the Boston Redevelopment Authority as to what they should and shouldn't do in order to present a case which would stand the scrutiny of the State's highest judicial tribunal.

In the slightly more than three years he has served as Attorney General, McCormack has made a record which probably is unequalled in Massachusetts history.

His investigations and prosecutions of public officials have commanded the headlines and the spotlight of public attention, and in truth he has made more such probes and prosecutions than any Attorney General before him.

But his effective work as the chief law officer of the Commonwealth, apart from those activities, has produced some notable results for both Massachusetts and its citizens.

Jerry Williams Show Discussed by Readers

In recent weeks this department has received numerous inquiries as to what we thought about various opinions voiced on the nightly Jerry Williams show on station WMEX.

Our answer is that if you listen long enough you can get the opinion which coincides with your own because eventually every possible opinion will be expressed on every conceivable subject.

One thing about Williams is that he does make possible the presentation of arguments on both sides of the question under discussion even if the views offered conflict with his own.

That is more than can be said for some of the self-appointed experts who pontificate in radio and TV editorials on subjects about which they know little or nothing.

You may disagree with Williams, as this writer sometimes does, but at least he affords an opportunity for those who differ with him to express their ideas.

Praise for Firemen

Editor
Newton Graphic
Dear Sir:

The following self-explanatory letter was sent to the Newton Fire Department recently in appreciation of fine services rendered:

Chief Frederick A. Perkins, Jr.
Newton Fire Dept. Hdqtrs.
1164 Centre street
My wife and I would like to extend to the Newton Fire Department and to you as Chief of the Department our heartfelt thanks and appreciation for the services you rendered to us in saving our home from the serious fire which threatened to destroy it on Monday, December fourth.

Too often the public image of the fireman is that of an axe-wielding individual who does far more damage than the fire. If this is ever true — and I doubt it, it is certainly not true of the men in the Newton Fire Department. Seeing them in action we were tremendously impressed by the speed and skill with which they attacked the fire and brought it under control. We were impressed too by the obvious professional discipline and organization which was most evident. Above all, we were astonished that your men could still take time to show the consideration that they did in covering floors and stairs with tarpaulin and to take the care that was taken with furniture and personal belongings.

We would like again to express our gratitude for your fine work. The citizens of Newton have every reason to be proud of their Fire Department.

As a small measure of our appreciation, I am enclosing a contribution to the Newton Fire Department Welfare Association.

Yours very sincerely,
TULLY BENSON, M.D.

Greenwich Village Inspired Moore's Immortal Poem

"His cheeks were like roses, his nose like a cherry!" That's Santa . . . the way American children have pictured him ever since Clement C. Moore penned his immortal Christmas poem 139 years ago in New York's Greenwich Village.

It was Christmas Eve, 1822. Professor Moore was returning by sleigh from Washington Market—where he had bought a plump turkey for the family's Christmas dinner.

His horses moved easily over packed snow on the rough country road—where walnut and apple trees bloomed in fair weather. The night was crisp and cold—the air merry with sleigh bells, and holiday greetings called between friends.

"Twas the night before Christmas, when all through the house not a creature was stirring, not even a mouse." Amusing couplets began taking shape in the learned churchman's mind. "The stockings were hung by the chimney with care, in hopes that St. Nicholas soon would be there."

By the time Professor Moore reached his home and his six small, bright-eyed children . . . America's completely new version of Santa Claus had been created . . . and was ready for its first delighted audience!

Moore's imaginative description gave Santa a white beard and a sleigh full of toys . . . dimples, a white beard and a pipe . . . a paunch and a hearty laugh . . . plus a costume of fur "from his head to his foot."

Some say this St. Nicholas was modelled on a rotund, jolly Dutchman who also lived on lower Broadway in those days.

Moore wrote the poem only as a Christmas surprise for his family. It had no name—nor future—until a friend copied the verses and submitted them to a newspaper editor. Just before Christmas 1823, the poem was published . . . under the editor's heading "An Account of a Visit from St. Nicholas." No one knew Moore wrote it until a decade went by—and the verses had grown nationally popular!

The poet gave America its modern picture of what Santa should look like, yet Moore himself never referred to St. Nicholas as "Santa Claus," a name known here since the mid 1700's.

The Christmas stockings, chimney, nightcap, shutters, fireplaces, ashes and soot were all part of the American scene in the Village in Moore's time. Preserving its aura of Victorian charm, Greenwich Village today probably has more fireplaces in use than any other section of New York! Santa still finds landing room among the chimney pots spiralling smoke above quaint streets in this unique community—where the spirit of Moore's "night before Christmas" lives on!

Among the carollers who annually gather under the 40-foot tree in Washington Square you might meet Mrs. Virginia Douglas of "Yes, Virginia, there is a Santa Claus" fame. A Village resident, she's in her 70's now . . . and still believes Santa as he was explained to her by a kindly editor so many years ago.

If you hang a wreath and light a candle in your window, wandering bands of carollers will pause to sing before your Village home!

Continuing your rounds, you might see the house where O. Henry once lived . . . and be reminded of his best-loved Christmas story, "The Gift of the Magi." Were his make-believe Della and Jim inspired by real Village newlyweds of long ago?

Along 8th Street you'll find all the shop windows gaily painted and trimmed by eager school children of the neighborhood.

In this city with its hundreds of churches, the largest creche of all is erected before St. Anthony of Padua's in the Village, on Houston street between Thompson and Sullivan. Dozens of trees and life-size figures pay silent tribute to the holy night at Bethlehem.

As in small towns across America, lamp posts on residential streets here are hung with fragrant wreaths.

A quiet and gay little world preserved from another era . . . Greenwich Village, more enchanting than ever at Christmas time. Does any place in America have more right to take the season to its heart? Santa Claus, that "right jolly old elf," was born here . . . and childhood's Christmas lore will never forget it.

"Player of The Week" Award to Newton's Fox

Bob Fox, the big defenseman on the Newton High School hockey team, has been named "Player of the Week" by the Boston Arena, according to an announcement this week by Arena Manager Joseph Tomasello.

The 16-year-old Junior is, at 6'2", one of the tallest players in schoolboy hockey.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph L. Fox Jr., of 18 King street, Auburndale, and brother of Don Fox, defenseman on Newton High and Boston College hockey teams in years past.

"Hockey was always Bob's first love," said his mother. "He grew up with hockey. I used to take him to see Don play when he was only a little boy. I guess you might say we're a hockey family."

The Newton hockey sextet is tied with Arlington for second place in the GBI League.

The "Player of the Week" Award is given by the Arena each week to one schoolboy player out of the hundreds who play in all the leagues participating in the Arena program.

McColgan, state commander and hospital chairman, who congratulated the membership for the fine work they did on DAV Day at Bedford VA Hospital, the Soldiers' Home in Chelsea, and Rutland VA Hospital where over 2,000 patients were given Christmas packages.

The District Council has made arrangements to bring The Rogers Troupe of young actors and actresses to Bedford for a night of entertainment and to buy paint for the ceramic class at the Soldiers' Home in Chelsea.

Refreshments were by the committee headed by Eddie Woloski, Tony Mandile, Eddie Edmunds and Ralph Madocks and music was provided by the son of Max Gentile of Chapter No. 23.

Guests were especially complimentary about the magnificent facilities the City of Newton provides for veteran's organizations.

Members of Chapter No. 23 are reminded that the next regular meeting will be on Monday, Jan. 8, at 8:30 p. m.

Snow Plowing-

Streets in Good Shape at 5 P.M.

Perkins said the city was in excellent condition about 5 p.m. Sunday when a force of 300 men, who had been working on 100 snow plowing and fighting vehicles, were allowed to go home to bed after being on the job since 4 a.m.

But when the men were called back to work at midnight Christmas Eve to cope with the second storm, most of them didn't respond.

A few men trickled in to go to work. The remainder stayed at home on Christmas.

The result was that Perkins had neither the men nor the equipment to keep abreast of the storm.

What equipment he could muster was used to plow the main streets which were kept in good condition.

Some side residential streets, however, were not plowed until the later afternoon or evening of Christmas Day, curtailing Christmas activities planned by hundreds of the city's residents.

Mayor Gibbs was among those deluged by a cascade of complaints.

Perkins said that apart from the shortage of manpower and equipment the manpower and equipment the plows he was able to press into service were blocked and hampered by parked automobiles.

He estimated that parked or stalled cars either hindered or prevented plowing on between 300 and 400 side residential streets.

Police Tow Cars Away in Areas

Police reported that they had cars towed away in a number of sections. They said automobiles hampering plowing operations were hauled away from Highland and Marginal streets in West Newton, Aspen and Vista roads and Stanton avenue in Auburndale, Cabot and Walnut streets in Newtonville, and Washington street in Newton.

Both Gibbs and Perkins emphasized that automobile owners must make whatever arrangements are necessary to get their cars off the street during future storms and that if they fail to do so police will have them towed away.

Perkins revealed that some complaints were received from persons whose parked automobiles made it impossible to plow their streets at the very time they were complaining.

Mayor Gibbs declared that he intends to do everything he can to avoid a repetition of the conditions which existed Christmas Day on many streets in the city.

Bob Malone-

The Tigers lost all nine games they played in 1960, and during the past fall they won one game, tied one and lost seven.

Malone came to Newton as the line coach under Harold (Bud) Hawkes in the fall 1955. He assumed the head coaching duties in 1959 following the retirement of Hawkes. He is a graduate of Boston University.

The new NHS football coach must be a combination coach and teacher.

School authorities have made it plain during their private conferences that they are not interested in seeking out a high-priced coach whose talents are confined to the gridiron; that the new coach must fit into the high school faculty.

The person picked to succeed Malone will first be cleared for his coaching ability by Frank M. Simmons, director of physical education at Newton High School.

Then he will be judged on his teaching ability by Richard W. Mechem, principal at the high school.

If he passes those two tests, his appointment will be recommended to the School Committee by the superintendent of schools.

Even though Newton High School was engaging in Class A competition and meeting some of the strongest high school football teams in the state during the recent gridiron season, the Tigers made creditable showings in virtually all their games despite a poor won-and-lost record.

YMCA Honors Youngsters For Selling Record; Plans 'Week'

Three proud Newton youngsters, William Price, Shirley MacKay and Warren Houston, were honored recently at the December board meeting of the Newton YMCA for their outstanding efforts as salesmen in the recent Newton YMCA World Service candy sale campaign.

Donald E. Wilbur, of Wellesley, chairman of the World Service Committee of the New England Area of the YMCA, was a special guest at the meeting. Mr. Wilbur praised the youngsters for having sold the largest amounts of candy in a now completed drive, to benefit the YMCA World Service in foreign lands.

The annual candy sale has enrolled more than 50 boys and girls as salesmen. It is expected that these Y members will raise more than $500 for the extension of YMCA services in other less fortunate countries.

The board of directors also heard reports announcing plans for the celebration of YMCA week - January 21 to 28, by public relations committee chairman, William D. Barry. The week will feature the annual Ministers Luncheon on Tuesday January 23, and will culminate in the "Open House" at the Newton YMCA on Saturday, January 27.

New Theme For Witnesses At Framingham

Arthur Hallsworth, presiding minister of the Newton congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses, announced today that the Circuit Assembly to be held Dec. 29-31 at Framingham would be on a new theme of "Assist One Another to do God's Will."

"Everyone is aware," he said, "that a heavy cloud of fear hangs over all people today with the threat of nuclear destruction. Our assembly will set forth, by lectures, demonstrations and personal visits, the definite value of Bible knowledge at this time."

"We will show how a proper understanding of the Bible will allay fears and build a firm hope for the future. By the assurance of what God's kingdom will accomplish right here on earth, Jehovah's Witnesses are aroused to tell others this good news and assist them to do God's will," Mr. Hallsworth said.

Nonantum Post Entertains 700 Kiddies At Yule Party

The annual Christmas party for children was held recently by Nonantum Post, No. 440, American Legion with seven hundred kiddies enjoying a program of entertainment, plenty of goodies, and the visit of Santa Claus with a bagful of gifts.

The children were entertained Sunday afternoon at the Hawthorne field house by magician Joseph Champagne, one Sandstrom Studio dancers, Roberta O'Donnell, Susan McLeod, Donna Burke and Laura Lansed and accordion players, Anthony Marini and Richard Marzilli, who led the group singing.

A lively hobo skit caused much laughter and enjoyment as hobo Louis Civetti was ejected from the hall by officer Mario Marini, and Anthony Pellegrini.

Santa Claus (Frank Piselli) was assisted in giving out the gifts by Paul Palmas, Nick Mucci, John Boyle and John Malgeri.

Commander C. Joseph Pasquarosa as master of ceremonies led the applause for the two chairmen Nuncio and Anthony Pellegrini. Also thanked was President Josephine Napolitano of the Italian American Post 50 auxiliary and helpers Mrs. Sue Nartomaso and Mrs. Mary Del Vecchio.

The success of the party was due in great part to help given by the members of the Sons of Italy Lodge Umberto Primo No. 1069. Other committee members of Post 440 were Michael Belli, Roger Marrocco, Innocente Fraini, Gerard Marrocco, Joseph Cafarelli, Michael DeLuca, Louis Vitti, Michael Riccio, Guido Cetrone, Carey Priora and Laurence Civetti.

Cystic Fibrosis Executive Board Discusses Plans

A meeting of the executive board of the Newton Branch for Cystic Fibrosis Research was held recently, at the home of Mrs. Daniel Glickman of Newton. Plans for the winter and spring affairs were discussed.

A check was presented to Mrs. Jack Shelman, president, to aid the fund drive conducted by the Newton Branch in September. This money was collected mainly by three Newton youngsters over the summer, who sold lemonade and presented plays that they wrote and acted in themselves. These children are Harold Dine, age 8, Barry Klickstein, age 8, and Shelley Paris, age 9.

Later in the day a baby girl, Kristine, was born to the Youngrens.

Combined Sisterhoods To Meet Here on January 3rd

The Sisterhood of Temple Shalom of Newton will host the annual meeting of the Combined Liberal Sisterhoods of Greater Boston on Wednesday, January 3, at 1:45 p. m. The guest speaker, Dr. Cyrus H. Gordon, professor of Near Eastern studies and chairman of the Department of Mediterranean Studies at Brandeis University, who recently returned from the Near East, will speak on "Recent Discoveries in Israel."

Some of the most interesting aspects of Dr. Gordon's background are found in his career as an archaeologist. He was a member of the expedition that excavated the Judean city of Tell Beit Mirsim and the Maccabean fortress of Beth-Zur; he also participated in the first discovery of King Solomon's Mines.

Dr. Gordon is widely known as a lecturer on the "Dead Sea Scrolls" and an authority on the Ugaritic tablets that have revolutionized the study of Hebrew civilization. Among his published works, numbering more than 200, are the German translation of his "Introduction to Old Testament Times" and the second revised English edition under the title "The World of the Old Testament."

Mrs. Samuel Prince, Sisterhood president of Temple Ohabei Shalom, will offer the opening prayer. Mrs. Sydney Gold, Sisterhood president of Temple Shalom, will welcome the guests, and Mrs. Nathan Koffman, Sisterhood president of Temple Sinai, will introduce the speaker. The meeting will be closed with a prayer by Mrs. Julius Grossman, Sisterhood president of Temple Israel.

A coffee hour will precede the meeting at 12:45 p. m. and a baby sitting service will be available.

Tigers' Hoop Squad Looks For Victory

Newton High School's hoopers, still looking for that first victory of the season, were hoping that Santa Claus might have left that magic something needed to sink baskets from the floor.

Thus far the Tigers have dropped two non-league tilts and then five league games in a row. Rindge Tech really belted Newton last Tuesday, 72 to 38, and then Brockton lowered the boom on Thursday, 81 to 63.

Newton was never in either of the games. Rindge jumped to a 27-7 lead in the opening period and kept pouring it on. In the last quarter Newton did outscore Rindge 12-11 but the damage was done.

The same thing happened in the game against Brockton, where Steve Sarantopoulos piled up 26 points to pace the undefeated Shoe City boys. This raised his league total for the season to 111.

Meanwhile, Newton South High edged Weymouth 45 to 43 last Thursday in a game that was decided on Bob Primack's foul conversion with a minute and 53 seconds on the clock.

Most stamp collectors who spend their dimes and dollars for gaudy foreign postal issues are unaware that many of these are forgeries.

Stamp forgery and sale of worthless paper in the guise of postage stamps is a multi-million dollar business and has reached its highest peak in history, according to Dr. Albert Roy of Newton, curator of the Boston University philatelic library.

Prof. Roy warned that an estimated 15 million forged stamps — imitations of both contemporary and "rare" vintage stamps — are being offered today to unwitting customers throughout the world.

These are in addition to the totally unnecessary souvenir sheets and unperfected stamps released in limited numbers to make them scarce and thus push the price upward by various foreign countries; and the small issues which some foreign governments permit high-powered syndicates to buy up in their entirety to make them even more valuable.

The most recent examples of this were the Europa issue from Turkey and San Marino — and the latter is not even in the Europa bloc.

And in the United States the most recent case of forgery came to light in Philadelphia where three men were arrested with a million copies of the current 4 cent Lincoln stamp. However, this was more of a case of intent to defraud the government, rather than blithely the collector.

These reproductions were "near perfect" although they were photo-offset printed, rather than engraved as are the genuine stamps at the Bureau of Printing and Engraving in Washington, D. C.

Dr. Roy said improved means of detecting water marks, printing methods, size of paper pores, thickness and texture of paper and kinds of inks have enabled collectors to keep pace with the stamp racketeers.

"The greatest stamp forger of all time was a French-Italian named DeSperati who died at the age of 73 in 1957 when he was nearly blind," said Dr. Roy.

"When the British Philatelic Association acquired the Sperati collection in 1953 (on his promise to stop his artistic counterfeiting) they reported a total of 559 different stamps produced by the master forger, some of them valued at as much as $3,000.

"DeSperati did not consider himself a forger, but a master craftsman who contributed fine reproductions of beautiful works of art to the stamp collectors of his world. He signed each of his reproductions on the back but in pencil and very lightly. It could be easily erased. And the next buyer was none the wiser that the stamp was not genuine."

Dr. Roy said that the exchange of forgeries is a respectable trade when openly conducted by philatelists. Many collectors versed in the sciences of philately have specialized in searching for rare or classic forgeries, just as others hunt down stamps of a more genuine origin, he added.

Boston University's Philatelic Library was established 10 years ago when the Boston Philatelic Society donated its collection of books, periodicals and catalogs to the school. Since then the library has grown to be fifth largest in the country and the only major philatelic library in New England.

Dr. Roy, who has guided the growth and development of the library since its inception, is a graduate of the University of Vienna and a M.S. degree from Columbia University. He came to Boston University in 1943 as an instructor in German and has held numerous positions there since that time. He is author of many articles and a volume of poetry written in German.

Newton Maryknoller Saves Life of Indian

Maryknoll Missioner Rev. Thomas R. Melville of Newton Highlands, an amateur radio operator, took directions over the air from a doctor at Pensacola's Naval Hospital and saved the life of a Mam Indian in his remote mountain mission in Soloma, Guatemala.

The story was reported this week in The Pilot, the weekly newspaper of the Boston Catholic Archdiocese. The Pilot story said: Unable to diagnose the ailment of the dying Indian, the young missioner took to the airwaves in a desperate attempt to save the man's life. Luckily, he contacted another ham, Seaman Ken Burwinkle at the Naval Air Station in Pensacola Florida.

He told Burwinkle: "I have a man here who is dying. Can you put me in touch with a doctor? I want to try to save his life."

Rather than relay the message, the sailor used the station's phone-patch facilities and connected Father Melville directly with Dr. Richard Lawrence at the station hospital. Basing his diagnosis on Father Melville's description of the dying man's symptoms, Dr. Lawrence prescribed emergency treatment. Father Melville followed the doctor's directions and the patient responded immediately.

Father Melville is stationed in the remote Cuchumatanes Mountains of northwestern Guatemala, some 200 miles from the nearest medical facility. He provides the only medical aid to the thousands of Indians living in his mission area. His sole emergency contact with the outside world is through amateur radio.

Fr. Melville, a graduate of Boston College and Maryknoll Seminary, Maryknoll, N. Y., has been stationed in Soloma in the remote Cuchumatanes Mountains for the past five years. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur G. Melville of 245 Cypress St., Newton Centre.

Fr. Melville's younger brother, Arthur, also is a Maryknoll missionary, but is stationed in a different part of Guatemala. Another brother, William, lives in Newton Highlands. They have two sisters, Mrs. Mary Murphy of Newton Centre and Mrs. Eleanor Moss of Andover.
